A day after being rapped by the Karnataka High Court, the state Congress on Thursday suspended its big ticket Mekedatu padayatra at Ramanagara. But the leadership claimed that it is being stopped only for now, in the light of the high court's observations on public health and hopes to resume the padayatra once the third wave of Covid-19 passes off.

The HC, while hearing a public interest petition on Wednesday, had questioned the government if it was incapable of stopping the padayatra which had continued despite FIRs being filed against Congress leaders. The court had also questioned the Congress if it had obtained permission to take out the padayatra.

Sensing strong action by the court, Opposition leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president D K Shivakumar returned to Bengaluru on Wednesday evening and held discussions with the party leaders in Delhi who suggested that the padayatra be stopped, sources said. AICC general secretary in charge of Karnataka, Randeep Singh Surjewala, who is in home isolation after contracting the virus, spoke to both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar over phone and advised them to take an appropriate decision, the sources added.

On Thursday, the party, which had given a call to its members to continue with the padayatra, held a meeting in Ramanagara and decided to stop it for the time being and take it up later on when Covid-19 cases decline.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

ADVISING heightened alert to avoid panic situations, Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his first meeting with chief ministers since the outbreak of the Omicron variant of Covid-19, suggested adopting local containment strategies that have the least impact on livelihood and the economy.

He also urged them to be prepared for future variants of the virus as it mutates very fast.

"The earlier confusion about Omicron is slowly getting cleared now. The Omicron variant is infecting the general public many times faster than the earlier variants. We have to be alert, be careful, but we also have to take care that there is no panic situation," Modi said, whose closing remarks were broadcast on social media.

Stressing that the Centre and states are dealing with the pandemic for two years now, Modi urged chief ministers to stick the past practices and work collectively. "The way the Central and state governments had adopted a pre-emptive, proactive and collective approach, the same is the mantra of victory this time as well. The more we can limit the corona infection, the less the problem will be," he said.

Underscoring the point that economic activities should not be disrupted, Modi sought to nudge chief ministers to avoid lockdown situations. While Delhi has imposed weekend curfew, other states, too, have announced various restrictions, including night curfew.

"While making any strategy, it is very important to keep in mind that there should be minimum damage to the livelihood of the common people. Economic activities and momentum of the economy should be maintained. So, it will be better to focus more on local containment," he said, while stressing that thrust should be on providing maximum treatment in home isolation.

Vaccination, he said, is the only counter to the pandemic, adding the first dose has been administered to about 92% of the adult population.

Fresh Covid-19 cases doubling faster in state during third wave

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Covid-19 infection of the Omicron variant, although milder than other variants, is most likely to infect a huge number of people. Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said the doubling rate in the third Covid-19 wave is much faster than the previous two waves in Karnataka.

In the first wave, it took 10-12 days for the fresh case count to double on an average, while in the second wave it took eight days. But now, cases are doubling in 2 to 2.5 days, he pointed out.

Explaining the trajectory of how the third wave took off, Sudhakar said that on December 28 last year, Bengaluru reported 269 cases while the rest of the state reported 87 cases.

A week later, Bengaluru reported 3,605 cases, while the rest of the state reported 641 cases.

OBC bleeding on in UP BJP, one more quits

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE saga of defections of disgruntled ministers and MLAs in Uttar Pradesh just ahead of elections, after having enjoyed a full term of five years, continued on Thursday with minister Dharam Singh Saini quitting the Yogi Adityanath government and two MLAs — Mukesh Verma (Shikohabad) and Vinay Shakya (Bidhuna) — resigning from the BJP.

While OBC leader Saini cited the BJP-led government's alleged neglect of the backward class, the two MLAs also gave similar reasons. All three are expected to join the Samajwadi Party. With this, the number of leaders who have left the BJP has risen to 13. According to sources, BJP MLA from Dhaurahara Bala Prasad Awasthi is also planning to quit. Notably, most of the deserters had defected to the BJP from the BSP in 2017 just before the polls.

Saini won the 2002 and 2007 elections from Sarsawa in Saharanpur as a BSP candidate. He was shifted to Nakur in 2012 where he defeated Congress strongman Imran Masood. He won from Nakur again on a BJP ticket in 2017.

SIX DEAD AS TRAIN DERAILS IN BENGAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata / New Delhi / Guwahati

AT least six persons were killed and dozens injured after Guwahati-bound Bikaner Express via Patna was on Thursday derailed and four of its coaches rolled into a ditch beside the railway tracks at Maynaguri in West Bengal's Jalpaiguri district, around 680 km from Kolkata.

Jalpaiguri District Magistrate Moumita Godara Basu said around 45 passengers were injured in the accident. Sources said the casualties might go up as the condition of 15 injured was critical.

The Railways has ordered a high-level inquirty into the accident.

According to sources, the train was not at high speed when the accident happened. "After Siliguri, there is speed restriction as the railway tracks pass through elephant corridors in Dooars forest," said an official.

A senior technical officer with the Indian Railways in Delhi said derailment of such grave magnitude generally occurs when tracks are defective or not maintained properly. One of the rescue team members who reached the site after 30 minuets of derailment said the locals had already started the rescue operation. "It was like a thunderbolt. We all fell on each other. There were cries all over," said Manua Das, who was rescued by locals. Another passenger who escaped unhurt said, "It was as if a major earthquake occurred inside the train."

Bablu Das, a local youth, said he and his friends dragged out many injured from he ill-fated coaches. P10

Gyms, pools in apartment complexes shut

Containment zones shoot up, BBMP issues fresh guidelines for flats, hostels, ropes in RWAs to keep vigil

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

GYMS, swimming pools and other sports facilities will once again be closed in apartment complexes, and events and gatherings in clubhouses and community halls are to be restricted to 50 people, and preferably avoided. BBMP issued a set of revised guidelines for apartments on Thursday, after holding discussions with residents' welfare associations.

The order states that children must wear a mask round the clock in open spaces, and if more than three cases are reported in the complex, it will be declared a containment zone for a minimum of seven days. If one case is reported in a house, it is declared a CZ, if three cases are reported, the floor is declared a CZ, and if 10 are found in a tower, the tower itself is declared a CZ. If cases go above 50, the entire apartment complex will be declared a containment zone.

Those in the CZ, primary and secondary contacts will be subject to home quarantine, and the RWA and apartment association will keep vigil. All contacts will be tested.

Health officials will also stick home quarantine posters on the areas. RWAs should also ensure that any resident with symptoms or suspected to have come in contact with a Covid-positive person is reported to health officials, and is tested, tracked, triaged, quarantined and isolated. The associations must also ensure that international travellers and those with travel history to Maharashtra, Kerala and Goa, are subject to RT-PCR tests and have a negative report.

BBMP directed apartment associations and RWAs to appoint a single point of contact who will be in touch with BBMP health authorities. They must also ensure that every one is doubly vaccinated, and entry of vendors and delivery agents is restricted.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said a separate and stern advisory has been issued as around 50-60 per cent of containment zones are in apartment complexes, PGs and hostels. BBMP also issued a special advisory for PGs, nursing colleges, hostels and other colleges. Those staying in hostels should undergo tests, in case someone tests positive. The administration must ensure every one is doubly vaccinated.

Citizens still not serious about masking up

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE third wave may be upon the city, but mask marshals and the police are coming up against a public fatigued with masking up, doling out a variety of excuses -- some silly, others bizarre. Sample these: "I forgot my mask", "It's not compulsory where I come from", "I was just pulling it up", "I was pulling it down because I have to spit", "I have to smoke", and even "It doesn't match my outfit, and isn't looking cool".

"What's shocking is that though cases are rising, we have to make people aware of the importance of wearing a mask. Many people are still casual," a senior police official told The New Indian Express.

Police, health and BBMP officials are aggressively checking those not wearing masks and penalising them. BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said: "Everyone should wear a mask as this is the only way to fight the virus."

According to records, marshals have collected Rs 2,41,250 in penalty from citizens -- Rs 2,34,000 for not wearing masks, and the rest for failing to other violations. The maximum cases are from West Zone (383), followed by South Zone (188) and East Zone (147). The least cases are from Yelahanka (25).

Records also show that maximum penalty of Rs 1,78,03,125 was collected by marshals and police in December 2020, while Rs 59,39,768 was collected in December 2021.

Chief Marshal Col Rajbir Singh said penalties are being collected from different areas in the city -- from market areas like Chickpet, KR Market to upscale shopping areas and malls, railway stations and bus stands.

Hoteliers want curfew to be lifted

BENGALURU : Members of several associations of hotels, restaurants, bars, choultries and catering units, who held detailed discussions on Thursday, have announced that they will sit in the streets and conduct their business if the government does not lift the weekend curfew after Sankranti. They also decided to meet CM Basavaraj Bommai on Monday after he completes his isolation period, to submit a memorandum. "If the government does not agree, we will be left with no choice but to sit in the streets and do business. The alternative is strict implementation of 50% seating capacity in restaurants. Instead of restricting gatherings for weddings, 50% of venue capacity should be allowed," said P C Rao, president of the Bruhat Bengaluru Hotels and Restaurants Association. They said Maharashtra, which is seeing a huge number of cases, has also not imposed weekend or night curfew. They said they are losing Rs 200 crore per day due to the weekend curfew. ENS

Passenger traffic hit at KIA

BENGALURU: The surge in Covid cases in Bengaluru has caused an alarming dip in passenger traffic at the Kempegowda International Airport since the New Year. The average footfalls per day now ranges between 50,000 and 55,000 flyers only. A BIAL spokesperson said, "The surge in cases have clearly affected passenger flow to KIA. This coupled with the restrictions imposed on the seating capacity on flights have affected travel plans of many." The passenger flow during Christmas and the year-end averaged between 72,000-75,000 per day and it was expected to reach pre-covid levels (90,000 to 1 lakh per day) by early January.

NICE Road to be out of bounds for bikes from 10 pm to 5 am

BOSKY KHANNA@ Bengaluru

TO put an end to frequent accidents involving two-wheelers on NICE Road, the management of the Nandi Economic Corridor Enterprises (NICE) Limited has decided to close the road for two-wheeler traffic between 10 pm and 5 am from January 16. This is being done in line with the directives of the Joint Commissioner of Traffic, Bengaluru, stated an official release.

A NICE official said, "While the circular bans two-wheelers only at nights until further orders, we are working towards making the rule a permanent one for safety reasons. There have been accidents on the road. The decision has been taken after a detailed discussion with the traffic police and is based on their suggestion. We have been contemplating on the same for the last one year."

According to records, 5-6 per cent of commuters on Nice Road are two-wheelers and this decision will lead to a financial loss of approximately 1 per cent.

The management is also working on concretising the stretches from Kanakapura Road to Tumkuru Road, due to which one lane has been shut for vehicular movement.

After FasTag was introduced, separate entry and exit lanes, along with separate marked stretches, were introduced for two-wheelers.

"The stretches have no street lights as per expressway standards. Also, four-wheelers and heavy vehicles go at a high speed. The safety of two-wheelers is a matter of concern. Cases of drunk and driving have also been noted," a traffic police personnel said.

A NICE spokesperson told TNIE that trucks heading from Mumbai to Chennai are high on NICE Road. "Due to poor visibility at nights as well as reckless riding by two-wheelers, accidents were common. The step has been taken to put an end to that," he eleborated.

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Department of Collegiate and Technical Education (DCTE) has entered into Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Karnataka Digital Economy Mission (KDEM) on Thursday which will benefit students studying in 92 polytechnic and 14 engineering government institutions. The agreement will enable the two bodies to guide young entrepreneurs, more so in rural Karnataka, through mentorship and talent development.

In its effort to align all institutions with the National Education Policy-2020, the DCTE has been working closely with the industry, said Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayana. "The MoU will enable development of relevant curriculum, enhancing infrastructure for teaching among other things," he said. 14th January : Recently I was asked, yet again, about the difference between two of the world's great astrological systems - the western and the Indian. The answer is that each offers a different perspective, but taken together they're an amazing tool for self-understanding. Add the Chinese system and we have something very special indeed; astrologers like to say that all paths lead to the truth.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Planetary activity is certain to make you realise that you must have more money if you are to finance your dreams. A little more of the old filthy lucre would go a long way towards easing certain personal restraints. It's not that you want money for its own sake, but for the good it can do.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are clear sign-posts as to the next step, but you may not see them until tomorrow, or even the day after. Get on the phone, write letters and ask anybody who will give a candid answer, what you should be doing. You don't have to follow all their advice - just some of it!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Even though it is difficult to express your thoughts, needs and desires with any clarity, I don't think this should hold you back. Say the first thing that comes into your mind, but listen carefully to partners' responses. And never believe that you are automatically right: you're not!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Press ahead with social plans and give a high priority to personal contacts at work. It will all seem very worthwhile, but, in point of fact, by tomorrow you may be inclined to withdraw your favours. Perhaps you'll begin to see old information in a new light.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Jealousy, resentment or fear on the part of someone close is always likely to burst out. Yet if you can possibly exert a little personal discipline, others will thank you for your sense of duty and honour. If you do the right and proper thing, then friends and family are bound to respect you much more, even if you don't have so much fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
In some small way a new dawn is coming. Some kind of reawakening is about to take place and, within a few days, you might be prepared to take more on trust. You may have a secret and you'll certainly be in the know to an extent which others may envy.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Business-minded types should be on top form today. It is time to make a few skilful purchases and profitable investments. Those in the property market or spending money on the home will succeed particularly well. It's a question of buying what you need rather than what you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You have learned a great deal about self-preservation and I doubt if anyone will be able to undermine you. You can reach out and restore a friendship that has gone adrift, and put on a pleasant face for new acquaintances. You may also begin to feel passions stirring in surprising ways.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Sometimes you just have to knuckle down and get on with the tasks in hand. The work ethic rears its head, and you may have to pay a great deal of attention to your duties and obligations. You have a much greater capacity to work in a methodical and routine manner than associates often believe.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Far too much time has already been expended on unnecessary disputes or conflicts. Today, I'd advise you to look only on the bright side and to make the most of all contacts with friends and partners. I once heard someone say that our friends are our greatest treasure. How true!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
These are still early days. I'd say that one phase of expansion and improvement is now complete and that you should begin to retrench. If you're making long-range plans, put down a marker for about four months' time, and set that as the target for achieving your personal goals.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It seems to have been a long time since you were encouraged to prove yourself. Actually, you have dodged one or two opportunities that you might have done better to accept. Still, that's all in the past now. You finally appear able to face up to the future.

Sudhakar lists out measures to combat surge: more testing, faster lab results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

HEALTH Minister K Sudhakar on Thursday announced that the government is drawing up a slew of measures to combat the pandemic. Testing will be increased to 2.5 lakh tests per day, and Bengaluru will increase testing by 30,000. The 5T strategy will be implemented again: Trace, Track, Test, Treat, Technology.

The turnaround time of genomic sequencing results will be improved to 24-36 hours from the current two to three days, in addition to starting genome labs in Ballari and Hubballi. Each lab can process 1,875 samples at a time. "Eight essential Covid-19 drugs will be procured, if the current stock is not enough. These include Enoxaparin injection, Methylprednisolone, Dexamethasone, Remdesivir, Tocilixumab, Amphotericin, IVIG and Posaconazole, the last of which we haven't found enough in the market," Sudhakar said.

All ILI, SARI, high-risk and symptomatic people will be tested. Those coming from any state to Karnataka will need to show negative RT-PCR test report, irrespective of mode of transport. From the total beds, 30 per cent will be reserved for pediatric cases.

Tele-triaging and physical triaging will be done to determine if a patient requires home isolation, CCC or hospital. There are 84,000 medical and paramedical staff in the state, with 4,000 doctors appointed after the second wave. If there are five cases in an area in Bengaluru, a micro-containment zone will be formed and if it is 15 cases, a larger containment zone will be formed. So far, the capital has 219 small clusters and 48 large clusters. So far, hospitalisation has been low with little oxygen requirement.

'Omicron evolving, can't lower guard'

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru:

WHILE the third wave is predominantly driven by the Omicron variant, hospital numbers are not yet telling us what a typical case looks like. A webinar organised by Neuberg Diagnostics, involving the country's renowned virologists and infectious disease experts, tried to decode the variant's clinical behaviour and how the 20-30 per cent cases reporting to hospitals may be non-Omicron, or could be sublineages of the Omicron variant, which is already evolving.

Recovery within four days

In a majority of cases, the clinical picture has shown that symptoms are mainly of high fever and severe throat pain. Dr V Ramasubramanian, Infectious Diseases Specialist, Apollo Hospitals, asks people to wait for three to four days and if fever persists or cough worsens, such patients need to be watchful. "We are seeing a lot of youngsters coming in with high fever and severe pain in the throat. ," he said.

Sublineages of Omicron

Dr Ramasubramanian explained that in 20 per cent or slightly higher number, samples are not showing the S-Gene deletion, so doctors should not dismiss all cases as Omicron.

He gave the example of a 60-year-old woman, vaccinated twice with a history of Covid-19, coming down with Omicron and who is very sick. Though chances of viral pneumonia are low with Omicron, CT-scans tell us we cannot lower our guard, he said.

Virologist Dr Ravi explained that Omicron is evolving and there are sublineages - BA.1, BA.2 and BA.3. "BA.2 is present in quite a few cities in India," Dr Ravi said.He said the districts will probably start seeing a peak in the next two or three weeks.

Combination of Delta and Omicron

While saying it is very difficult to predict whether there will be a new variant, Dr Jacob T John, renowned virologist from CMC Vellore, says, "A recent statement from the OIE-World Organisation said they cannot exclude the possibility that Omicron developed in rodents. This could mean it is an accident and not normal evolution of SARS-CoV-2 variant. If this holds good, we may see a combination of Delta and Omicron co-circulating in future.

VIRUS SPREAD UNIFORM ACROSS STATE: MIN

ON January 11, the state capital reported 10,800 new cases and the remaining districts reported 3,673 cases, bringing the state's day positivity rate to 10.3 per cent. So, in 15 days between December 28 and January 11, the cases have increased by 32.64% in Bengaluru Urban district, 32.65% in BBMP limits and by 36.44% in the state, the minister said.

"It is not that the rest of Karnataka is behind Bengaluru. The Covid-19 virus is spreading uniformly across the state. However, Bengaluru remains the epicentre, with 75 per cent of the active caseload, similar to other metro cities," Sudhakar said. On Thursday, 25,005 new Covid-19 cases were reported in the state, with Bengaluru accounting for 18,374.

The day's positivity rate shot up to 12.39 per cent and the active case count crossed the one lakh mark, touching 1,15,733. Bengaluru crossed the 90,000 mark in active cases, reporting 90,893 cases as of Thursday. On the first day of the new year, the state saw 1,033 new cases and since then, there has been a 24.2 fold increase in daily new cases.

The overall positivity rate has begun to increase in the last five days and it rose to 5.35 per cent on Thursday. The recovery rate continues to decline, dropping to 95.06 per cent in the day. However, the only positive sign is the reduced mortality rate. With eight deaths in the day, taking the state toll to 38,397, the fatality rate reduced from 1.23 per cent to 1.22 per cent.

In the capital, the recovery rate went below the 93 per cent mark, to 92.06 per cent. Here too, with three deaths, the fatality reduced from 1.23 % to 1.21 %.

PADAYATRA CALLED OFF FOR NOW, BUT BJP MAY REAP LITTLE DIVIDEND

Ruling party can't claim victory with its MLAs Guttedar, Renukacharya taking part in mass events

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

THE Congress calling off its ill-timed padayatra might have brought respite to the ruling government, but is unlikely to yield much political dividend to the BJP, as the opposition party was forced to wind up only after a lashing from the Karnataka High Court.

Though the court was severe against the government for abdicating its responsibility, it also questioned the Congress on the reasons for the padayatra. The BJP government, that was vocal against the padayatra and its timing, cannot portray a moral victory with its own party leaders Subhash Guttedar and M Renukacharaya taking part in mass events.

The BJP could have taken credit for stalling the padayatra if Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had countered the Congress design to take political advantage with its march in Old Mysuru region. He could have called an all-party meeting and explained his government's stand on the Mekedatu project, and hold the Congress responsible for any spike in cases, say political observers.

He should have sent a message that the BJP is for the project, but not for a padayatra in the middle of the third wave, especially with a swelling caseload. Bommai should have brought former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda on board, and sought his advice on how to push Karnataka's agenda, without harming Tamil Nadu's interest.

The BJP government's dilly-dallying also cost it a court rap: instead of taking a tough decision and discharging its duty with determination, it softened its stand as it was immersed in political calculations on whether the Congress would gain sympathy from the arrest of its leaders.

Although the BJP has nothing much to lose as it has little presence in Old Mysuru and Ramanagara, the Congress is now focusing on winning over voters in Bengaluru, claiming the Mekedatu reservoir will help quench the city's thirst. The Congress, that lost its Bengaluru MLAs to Operation Lotus, and is finding it difficult to find alternative faces, has its eye on 23 assembly constituencies. It was this strategy that worried a few BJP legislators, who demanded that the padayatra should not be allowed to enter Bengaluru city.

BJP MP Prathap Simha, questioning the Congress' silence on the Mekedatu project all these years, said the padayatra was a fight for leadership between Siddaramaiah and D K Shiva Kumar. The BJP is now keen to grab the opportunity and push for the Mekedatu reservoir to counter the Congress charge that the government has not made any effort for it, and may also use the opportunity to blunt any attack from the Congress on Covid management.

Political commentator Prof Muzaffar Assadi said that winding up of the padayatra will not be advantageous to the BJP, as the people know it was done on the intervention of the High Court. The only face-saver is that the padayatra did not enter Bengaluru, where the Congress could have stolen the limelight.

Congress fears backlash over rally amid third wave

RAMU PATIL @ Bengaluru

THE Opposition Congress might have succeeded in putting the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project on the centre-stage of political discussion and managed to generate enthusiasm among workers as well as display unity among the top leaders, but the timing proved to be tricky for the party that had to suspend its padayatra abruptly due to the Covid-19 situation. The protest march drew a groundswell of support in parts of Old Mysuru region, but the Congress faced the risk of being branded as the party responsible for the recent Covid surge.

After the party did fairly well in the recent bypolls to Assembly seats, MLC polls from local bodies' constituencies and urban local bodies, the Congress was keen to keep up the momentum and generate an election mood among its workers. The cases had started spiking much before the padayatra kicked off. But Congress was in no mood to defer it despite the surge in Covid numbers.

Highlighting the dilemma faced by the party, a senior Congress leader explained that they decided to go ahead with the padayatra because in case of its postponement, it would have been difficult to do it in summer or the rainy season. Also, they did not want to take out such a padayatra close to the Assembly elections in early 2023. They were also concerned about the BJP-led government preempting the Congress initiative on implementing the project by taking its own initiative towards the project.

Some Congress leaders admitted that they did not expect such a massive surge in Covid cases and were hoping to complete the padayatra much before the then expected surge in February. However, there were indications of a surge in Karnataka in cases and the Congress central leaders had cancelled rallies in poll-bound Uttar Pradesh. On January 8, a day before the padayatra was launched, Karnataka had reported 8,906 cases and on January 13, it went up to a whopping 25,005 cases.

Senior Congress leader BL Shankar said although they stopped the padayatra due to Covid cases, it was a moral victory for the party. "It was not completed due to an increase in Covid cases, but the purpose for which the padayatra was started was almost achieved. Now, everyone is discussing it and all three parties have made their stand clear and expressed their commitment," he told TNIE.

Apart from being a morale booster, it displayed Congress' ability to take up and sustain big agitations. It also attempted to show that in the Old Mysuru region (where Mekedatu is located) the fight is between the Congress and the BJP, and not Janata Dal (Secular), which is a force to reckon with in the Vokkaliga heartland.

However, while the state government, after being pulled up by the High Court, showed some determination in stopping the padayatra, Congress was worried about public perception of its padayatra being a Covid super-spreader going against it - negating whatever political gains it brought.

Sudhakar blames GOP for surge in Covid cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEALTH and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Thursday blamed the Congress for the recent surge in Covid-19 cases in Karnataka — courtesy the party's Mekedatu padayatra taken out in violation of the pandemic restrictions.

Addressing the media, Dr Sudhakar said that the Congress should be held responsible for the spiraling Covid cases in the state. He said the ruling BJP constantly tried to persuade the Congress leaders to stop the padayatra. "However, they did not oblige.

Dr Sudhakar said that the government handled the situation in a very mature manner without the use of force or arresting any participant. "The padayatra has indeed led to surge in Covid cases and Congress is responsible for this," he reiterated. He, however, appreciated the Congress for calling off the padayatra in the interest of the health and safety of citizens.

"Several thousands of innocent people took part in the padayatra. We are yet to see how it has spread the Covid infection. This was not an appropriate time to hold the march amid the third wave. The irresponsible statements made by KPCC president DK Shivakumar is very unbecoming and has hurt the morale of Covid warriors from IAS officers to frontline workers," he said.

On the Mekedatu project, Dr Sudhakar said that Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has a very deep understanding and knowledge of irrigation issues. "He is well aware of what needs to be done to benefit the state. Opposition should join hands with the government in such inter-state water issues. The Congress in poll-bound Uttar Pradesh had cancelled its rallies. Similarly, the Congress in Karnataka should have cancelled the padayatra," he said.

On legal issues delaying the Mekedatu project, Dr Sudhakar said that Tamil Nadu has approached the Supreme Court. "If the Congress is really concerned about Karnataka, then it could have discussed with Tamil Nadu CM to withdraw the case. The DMK is an ally of the Congress," he added.

DKS, Siddu CM dreams shattered: KSE

ENS @ Shivamogga

RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa said that both CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president D K Shivakumar were dreaming to become the next chief minister while taking out the Mekedatu padayatra. But, their dreams have shattered after the Karnataka High Court's directives and the eventual suspension of the rally, he said.

Eshwarappa said that Shivakumar, who was in Tihar jail, knows the power of judiciary and hence decided to cancel the padayatra. "Both their dreams of becoming CM have been shattered. The Congress leaders cancelled the padayatra fearing court action. The leaders were not bothered about the people prior to the court's observations," he said.

Day after HC rap, fourth FIR against KPCC leaders for violating restrictions

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A fourth First Information Report (FIR) has been filed against 30 Congress leaders, including party state unit chief DK Shivakumar and Bengaluru Rural MP DK Suresh, for taking part in the Mekedatu padayatra despite Covid-19 restrictions in the state. This time the FIR has been registered at Ramanagara rural police station.

The first FIR in the case was registered on January 9, the first day of the padayatra, in which 30 people were named for flouting Covid-19 norms. On Tuesday, 40 more people were named in the second FIR. On Wednesday, the third FIR was filed. Meanwhile, vehicles carrying Congress workers were stopped at several check posts along Bengaluru-Mysuru highway to prevent them from participating in the padayatra. The padayatra was scheduled to reach Ramanagara town from Ijoor town. A huge stage that was set up to commence the fifth day of the padayatra was dismantled early on Thursday.

Meanwhile, traffic was affected till noon as the police had barricaded the roads to check vehicles.

Police personnel were deployed in large numbers to monitor the situation and senior police officers also monitored the meetings held by Congressmen in Kanakapura and Ramanagara. The situation, however, returned to normalcy after Congress leaders called off the padayatra.

'We'll resume march after Covid is brought under control'

"WE have stopped the padayatra for now in the interest of the public, as the ruling BJP would have blamed us for the spread of Covid-19 cases, especially in Bengaluru. But we will resume another seven days of the walk, demanding implementation of the Mekedatu drinking water project, when the third wave passes off," Siddaramaiah asserted. "Respecting the high court's observations, we decided to stop padayatra for the time being. But it will resume from Ramanagara later on, as we are committed to ensure drinking water to the people of the state", Shivakumar stressed.

Siddaramaiah, CLP leader

DK Shivakumar, KPCC president

While FIRs were filed against a host of senior Congress leaders, the government had on Wednesday issued an order banning the padayatra. The Ramanagara district administration too had issued another notice to the KPCC president to stop the padayatra. Besides, the police were out in full force to stop Congress workers arriving from different places.

CM Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday appealed to the Congress to stop the padayatra while promising to take all parties along over the implementation of the Mekedatu project. "The third wave of Corona, which is proving to be severe, has affected people, especially children. Under the prevailing circumstances, it is not appropriate to conduct programmes like the padayatra by bringing people together in the interest of public health," Bommai said in his written appeal to Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar.

The HC's intervention came as a big relief for the ruling BJP, which had termed the padayatra as a super-spreader event. It is believed that over 25,000 Congress workers had registered to take part in the padayatra of which 25 per cent were from Bengaluru. If the padayatra had converged for a mega rally at the National College grounds on January 19, the city would have witnessed a massive crowd.

KHARGE, MOILY TEST POSITIVE

ENS @ Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge and former union minister Veerappa Moily have tested positive for Covid-19.

Taking to Twitter, Kharge said he was asymptomatic and was in home isolation. He was fully-vaccinated, but was not eligible yet for the booster dose, a statement from his office read.

Kharge had participated in the Congress' Mekedatu padayatra on the inaugural day after which Congress leaders CM Ibrahim and HM Revanna too had tested positive. Meanwhile, Moily, who too had taken part in the padayatra, tested positive on Wednesday evening and he tweeted, "This evening, I tested positive for Covid-19. While I'm having symptoms (cough and fever) I am grateful to be fully vaccinated, which is preventing me from more severe illness...."

Sports and Youth Services Minister KC Narayanagowda too has tested positive.

KARNATAKA AT 4TH SPOT IN INCREASING FOREST COVER

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE forest and tree cover in India is now 80.9 million hectares (8,09,537 sqkm), which is 24.62 per cent of the country's geographical area, and 1,540 sqkm more compared to the 2019 assessment, stated the India State of Forest Report (ISFR) 2021, published by the Forest Survey of India (FSI). The report was released by Environment Minister Bhupender Yadav at a virtual ceremony on Thursday.

FSI defines 'forest cover' as all lands of a hectare or more with tree patches, with canopy density of more than 10 per cent. Karnataka ranks fourth among the top five states in terms of increase in forest cover, starting with Andhra Pradesh (647 sqkm), Telangana (632 sqkm), Odisha (537 sqkm), Karnataka (155 sqkm) and Jharkhand (110 sqkm). Karnataka's forest area is about 22.61 per cent of the state's geographical area. The recorded forest area of Karnataka is 43,356.47 sqkm, as per the annual report of the state's Forest Department for the year 2014-15.

The southern state stands third in the increase in mangrove cover along the vast 7,500km coastline, spread over 12 states and UTs. Mangrove cover is 4,992 sqkm, with an increase of 17 sqkm, compared to the assessment of 2019. Top three states showing mangrove cover increase are Odisha (8 sqkm) followed by Maharashtra (4 sqkm) and Karnataka (3 sqkm).

The ISFR-'21 has observed an increase in total carbon stock in the country's forests, which is estimated at 7,204 million tonnes. "There is an increase of 79.4 million tonnes in carbon stock of the country, as compared to the last assessment of 2019," the report states.

The report has recorded a decline in forest cover in the country's hill and tribal districts, as well as across the northeastern states, besides observing an overall decadal decline in forest cover across 52 tiger reserves. FSI in collaboration with BITS Pilani, Goa campus, has conducted a study based on 'Mapping of Climate Change Hotspots in Indian Forests' to map climatic hotspots over forest cover, using computer model-based projection of temperature and rainfall data, for 2030, 2050 and 2085.

Centre approves ₹642cr for watershed devpt schemes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Union Government has approved the release of Rs 642 crore to Karnataka under the Prime Minister Krishi Sinchayee Yojna (Watershed Development Component) for the next five years.

Agriculture Minister BC Patil said rainwater harvesting, measures to prevent soil erosion, recharging of groundwater table as well as initiative to assist self-help groups will be taken up under the project. The Centre and the State will provide 60:40 assistance, respectively, for the project.

While Rs 22,000 per hectare will be invested in taking up watershed development programmes in plains, it will be Rs 28,000 per hectare in hilly areas. Patil said the Centre has also identified Karnataka as a state that will provide technical assistance to other states in taking up watershed development programmes.

Agriculture officials said that Karnataka will get Rs 150 crore each year and works will be taken up after getting approvals from the state cabinet. The State Government will also take up programmes under the Rs 600-crore REWARD (Rejuvenating Watersheds for Agricultural Resilience through Innovative Development) project with assistance from the World Bank. The project announced in the 2021-22 budget will be taken up in 21 districts, except in the coastal region, in the next five years, with 70 per cent assistance from the World Bank and 30 per cent from the State Government, the official said.

The official said various initiatives will be taken up under the project, including strengthening farmer producer organization, value chain development and setting up Centre of Excellence on Watershed Management at the University of Agricultural Sciences Bengaluru.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj ommai also explained the emphasis that has been given to improving health infrastructure, including increasing the number of oxygenated beds and oxygen plants. He appealed to the Union Government for aid to increase such facilities.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi also appreciated Karnataka's intiative in using technology to monitor people who are under home isolation.

Bommai also said the Centre has told states to utilise the Rs 23,000 crore package that was announced for buying ambulances and improving health infrastructure.

This apart, many states have not utilised funds released under the second package of Rs 32,000 crore for ICU beds, oxygen plants and other facilities. "The PM directed the states to utilise these funds for improving health infrastructure," Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai added.

Huge relief for actor in harassment case

Court accepts closure report in case against Arjun Sarja

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A city court has accepted the closure report (B-report) filed by the Cubbon Park police in the sexual harassment case filed by actress Sruthi Hariharan against multilingual actor Arjun Sarja. While the police had given a clean chit to the actor, Sruthi did not file a protest memo questioning the B-report, as a result of which the court accepted it.

In October 2018, when the global #MeToo movement against sexual abuse and harassment by those in positions of power reached India, Sruthi had levelled serious allegations of sexual harassment against the popular actor. She had accused Sarja of 'feeling her up in a sexual manner' during the shoot of a romantic scene of a movie titled 'Vismaya' in 2015. Besides, she had alleged that Sarja had put her in an uncomfortable situation on a few occasions, including inviting her to his room at a resort in Devanahalli while shooting for the movie.

She had lodged a complaint with the Cubbon Park police, who had booked Sarja under Sections 354 (criminal force to woman with intent to outrage her modesty), 354A (sexual harassment), and 509 (word, gesture, or act intended to insult the modesty of a woman) of the IPC.

During the probe, however, the police could not find any material evidence against Sarja. Even certain eyewitnesses had given statements like they were not sure what exactly happened on the sets and they were not aware of any such incident. Due to lack of evidence, the Cubbon Park police had submitted a B-report to the court on November 29 last year, giving a clean chit to Sarja.

As per legal provisions, Sruthi Hariharan had an opportunity to file a protest petition seeking the court to direct the police to re-investigate the case.

However, she chose not to pursue it. Hence, the 8th Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate (ACMM) court accepted the B-report on Thursday, in huge relief to actor Sarja.

MAN HELD FOR MURDERING LIVE-IN PARTNER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@Bengaluru

THE Konanakunte police have arrested a man who was absconding after allegedly murdering his live-in partner. Manjunath has been arrested for murdering Manjula(35), a housekeeping staff in a private company. The couple were living in a house in Beereshwara Nagar on Chunchaghatta Main Road in Konanakunte.

On the morning of January 7, Manjunath told the house owner that Manjula was exhausted after consuming excessive alcohol and requested to arrange an auto-rickshaw to take her to hospital.

The accused took Manjula in the auto to Jayanagar General Hospital, where she was declared brought dead. Manjunath escaped from there without giving proper details like residential address and contact number.

"The body was sent for post mortem and it was found that the death was due to brutal assault as her ribs were broken. The family of the deceased was informed about the death and a murder case was filed on January 11, based on the post mortem report. Information was gathered about the absconding accused leading to his arrest. Manjunath revealed he was suspicious of Manjula having a relationship with another man. There was a fight over the same on January 6 night and he hit her with a blunt weapon and murdered her. Further investigations are on," the police added.

8-hr search at house of actor Dileep

Sleuths also raided his brother's house; case related to conspiracy to harm police officers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE CRIME Branch raided the houses of actor Dileep and his brother Anoop in Aluva and the office of his film production house in Kochi on Thursday to trace a pistol the actor allegedly possesses without licence. Mobile phones and computer harddisks were seized during the search that lasted for eight hours, but no pistol was found. The raids were part of the recently registered case for hatching a conspiracy to harm police officers who probed the actor abduction and rape case in which Dileep is an accused.

Crime Branch ADGP S Sreejith said the search was carried out with the permission of the court.

"We had received a search warrant from court. The interrogation in the case related to the conspiracy to harm police officers will be completed without delay," said Sreejith. Asked about whether Dileep would be arrested soon, the officer said he could not say anything about it.

It was director P Balachandrakumar who revealed to the Crime Branch that Dileep possessed a pistol without a licence. The officers verified the list of persons in the state who hold gun licence and found his name was not there.

A 50-member team led by Ernakulam SP Mohanachandran Nair raided the houses of Dileep and Anoop at 11.30am while a 15-member team led by DySP Baiju Paulose — who is also the investigation officer in the case — carried out the search at the office of Graand Production House.

The Crime Branch team found the gate of Dileep's compound locked and the officers jumped over its wall to check the premises. A few minutes later, Dileep's sister, residing at Aluva, came and opened the house. Dileep arrived two hours later. The officers found the Grand Production House office too locked initially before two staff came in the afternoon and opened its doors.

The case against Dileep, Anoop, brother-in-law Suraj, Appu, Baiju Chengamanadu and another identifiable person following a statement by Balachandrakumar is that they hatched a conspiracy while watching the videos of his arrest at Dileep's house on November 15, 2017 to harm the police officers who were part of the investigation in the actor abduction case.

"We didn't question Dileep, we only carried out search in his presence of Dileep," said Mohanachandran Nair.

Kannur-YPR train derailment an act of nature: Report

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AN inquiry by South Western Railway into the major derailment of the Kannur-Yesvantpur Express in Bengaluru Railway Division, after boulders fell on the train on November 12 last year, has attributed the mishap to an act of nature. There has been no case of negligence by any department, it has established.

A three-member team comprising heads of departments of Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering and Traffic recently submitted its findings.

Five coaches of train 07390 derailed around 3.50am, after boulders came rolling down on to it due to heavy rain in the preceding days. None of the 2,348 passengers were injured in the mishap, that occurred at Dharmapuri, between Thoppur and Sivadi of Bengaluru-Salem section.

Chief Public Relations Officer, SWR, E Vijaya told TNIE, "An inquiry fixes primary and secondary responsibility for any incident. In this case, no primary responsibility was fixed on any one as investigations have revealed it was a natural phenomenon," she said. "The accident was caused by falling of boulders which hit the train after the engine and four coaches passed. It was due to natural causes beyond the control of anyone, and so no Railway man was held primarily responsible.

Regular inspections at the spot earlier could not have prevented the occurrence of such an accident, she added. "There was no failure in the railway system," she said.

The secondary responsibility has been fixed on a few staff members for not maintaining catchwater drains in the area, Vijaya said. "They are not directly responsible for the accident. However, action would be taken against them for the lapses," she added.

The extent of financial loss caused to the Railways could not be provided by any anyone in SWR.

HC: Govt can frame policies on transfer of PDS licences

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court upheld the state government's power and prerogative to impose conditions while considering applications on compassionate grounds for grant of authorisation, under the Karnataka Essential Commodities Public Distribution System (Control) Order, to a family member of a deceased authorised dealer.

"It is also settled that in case of compassionate appointments, the employer is entitled to frame policies. On the same premise, the state government is entitled to frame policies in the case of commodity distribution also," the court said, while disposing of a batch of petitions filed by VC Manmohan Kumar and others, questioning the notification dated January 16, 2021.

Justice PS Dinesh Kumar said the effect of notification in case of death of an authorised dealer before attaining the age of 65 years, is that the authorisation can be transferred to his spouse who is aged less than 65 years, or unemployed son, or unmarried daughter aged more than 18 years, or widowed daughter aged more than 18 years.

It also issued a condition that such transferees should have passed Class 10 or its equivalent qualification as on the date of death of the dealer. Referring to this, the court said, "The condition of 'pass in 10th standard' is a reasonable condition. The government advocate is also right in contending that a person who deals with commodity distribution is required to have basic knowledge in arithmetic, banking and liaison with public offices. The other conditions with regard to age are also a matter of policy and are just and appropriate," the court added.

Tribal girl seeks aid to conquer Kilimanjaro

SREENU BABU PATIVADA
@ Srikakulam

A 20-year-old tribal girl from the Agency area of the district seeks financial support from the State government to accomplish her dream of conquering Mount Kilimanjaro. Kondagorri Renuka from Nulakajodu village in Bhamini mandal of Seethampeta ITDA limits, has been selected for the Kilimanjaro expedition, which is scheduled from January 19-28 through Transcend Adventures.

She has to pay ₹3 lakh for travel expenses and equipment to take part in the mountaineering expedition. Daughter of Sanjeeva Rao and Krishnaveni, who are agriculture workers, Renuka is not in a position to join the team due to financial constraints. Now, she is working as a sales girl in a shopping mall.

Renuka was selected for scaling Mt Everest in 2018 when she was studying Intermediate second year in Seethampeta government junior college. She had successfully completed three-stage training for the expedition at Vijayawada, Darjeeling and Ladakh. Later, she had taken part in the expedition along with her team members. However, their trekking expedition was stopped after reaching 7,900 metres height out of 8,848 metres due to bad weather. Though she missed an opportunity to achieve her goal in mountaineering, she received laurels from Srikakulam district and ITDA officials for her attempt to scale Mount Everest.

Saffron shawl vs scarves dispute at Koppa degree college resolved

ENS @ Chikkamagaluru

THE controversy that erupted in the Koppa Government Degree College campus in Balagadi over a communal issue has ended on a peaceful note .

Opposing Muslim girl students coming to college wearing hijab along with their uniforms, Some Hindu girls students attached to ABVP started attending college wearing saffron shawls on their uniforms.

Trouble escalated with student bodies supporting these communities started levelling charges against each another, which sparked communal disharmony in the college campus. To avert major trouble, the college principal, on the advice of the Sringeri MLA TD Raje Gowda convened a peace committee meeting comprising parents of both communities.

Govt First Grade Degree College in Koppa town where the controversy over uniform cropped up

During the meeting, differences were resolved and an agreement was arrived at between the community leaders in the presence of the MLA TD Raje Gowda and the principal. A probable clash was averted, relieving parents of the tension.

Speaking to TNIE, Principal Dr Ananth said that a similar situation had cropped up in the college in 2018 but was resolved on a harmonious note. Parents from both sides agreed to abide by the 2018 agreement. Muslim girls will wear only veils over their heads and not shawls along with the uniform. Parents of Hindu girls agreed that their wards will abide by the 2018 rule and will not wear saffron shawls on the uniform," the Principal said.

Speaking to Express, Sringeri MLA TD Raje Gowda said that students were advised to behave in a disciplined manner and give importance to studies.

"Incidents stoking communal flames should not occur in the college campus. All have agreed," MLA Rajegowda maintained.

Disabled welfare office has no ramp

ARPITHA I @ Shivamogga

IRONIC as it may seem, the office of the Department for the Empowerment of Differently Abled and Senior Citizens in Shivamogga lacks an entry ramp for the differently abled. This despite the government mandating construction of ramps and railings at all government offices.

Earlier, the office had a levelled surface for people on wheelchairs to enter the office. But the Shivamogga Smart City Ltd (SSCL), which took up footpath construction, laid slab which makes it impossible for the wheelchair-bound to enter the office, putting them to hardship.

CR Shivu Kumar, district convener of Sakshama, a national organisation working for the all-round development of people with disabilities, told The New Indian Express that due to the lack of an entry ramp, it has become a herculean task for differently-abled people to enter the office. The wheelchair-bound are now forced to enter from a side road which sees heavy traffic , making it dangerous.

"I have given the memorandum along with photos of the office to the SSCL Managing Director and the district administration one-and-a-half months ago, requesting to construct a ramp. Other establishments on the same road have ramps, but they failed to construct one at this office, which is ironic. Many people with disabilities had to be carried to the premises by relatives or friends. Those who have come alone are left without help. Some have even crawled in, with no other option left. The authorities say they will construct the ramp in 15-20 days, but they constructed the footpath without building a ramp to the office," he alleged.

District Disabled Welfare Officer Shilpa M Doddamani said that despite writing three letters to the officials concerned, the issue has gone unattended. Every day, more than 50 people with disabilities visit the office and they are facing troubles due to lack of a ramp. There is no provision for repair works under the department rules to construct the broken ramp, she rued.

VODAFONE BAILOUT SHOWS URGENT NEED FOR POLICY REFORMS

The government will emerge as the largest shareholder of Vodafone Idea, acquiring a 35.8% stake in lieu of the ₹16,000 crore pending interest payments. Stake acquisition of private entities was never on the government's agenda and serves at cross purposes, given its deep desire for privatisation. The biggest achievement this fiscal is undoubtedly the sale of Air India, but owning up stake in Vodafone, even out of compulsion, seems ironic just when the annual disinvestment target is likely to be missed by a country mile. The rescue act isn't finished yet, as being the largest shareholder, it's in the government's interest to protect Vodafone's equity value so that the telco doesn't break the buck.

Much of the telecom operators' suffering was due to intense tariff wars and policy pitfalls. They suffered a fatal blow when the verdict in the Adjusted Gross Revenue case went in favour of the government. The worst hit among them was Vodafone Idea, which has one foot in the grave, reeling under a debt burden of ₹1.95 lakh crore. Its subscriber base crashed from 400 million to some 250 million, while its market share plunged from 35% to 24%. Now, the government's bailout package eases its cash flows and improves the near-term liquidity concerns reducing its payment outgo. On its part, Vodafone must give its all to raise long-term funding needed to acquire 5G spectrum, accelerate network investments, arrest subscriber attrition, and regain lost customers and market share. Importantly, it must start making money soon so as to meet its enhanced payments to the government once the moratorium period ends.

But Vodafone's survival also rests on two other stakeholders—the government and arch rivals Bharti Airtel and Reliance Jio. First, telcos must be bent on increasing average revenue per user as that's the only way to pull through. As analysts note, an increase in tariffs appears certain now that the likelihood of Vodafone's demise is a less-likely event. Lastly, the government, with stakes in multiple telcos, must ensure a sound policy regime to avoid the need for further relief packages.

HARVEST FESTIVAL IN THE TIME OF COVID

The third wave of the Covid-19 pandemic, spurred by the Omicron variant, has swept metropolitan cities in India, leaving a trail of fatigue on the battle-weary people. Most victims may have shown mild symptoms and recovered promptly at home without a mandatory hospital visit. As a result, the current wave has not led to hospitals getting overwhelmed, but people with comorbidities and those undergoing surgeries are definitely facing the brunt of the fast-spreading infection.

The fact remains that metropolitan cities are now mega clusters in the country, thanks to the high density of people. Both Kolkata and Chennai account for nearly half of the new cases in their respective states, while more than one-third of new cases in Maharashtra are from Mumbai. Delhi recorded nearly 28,000 new cases on January 12, the second highest since the pandemic began, with a positive rate of 26%. According to the health ministry, cities are the main regions of concern. Comparatively better health infrastructure in cities brings some solace, but the disquiet is palpable. The virus is fast spreading to the countryside, where health facilities are weaker.

Hence, it becomes important for state governments to slow the spread by all means. Sunday lockdowns and fresh curbs are reminders that we do not live in normal times and we can't afford to let our guard down. For instance, in Tamil Nadu, places of worship are shut upto January 18, the period of Pongal festivities, and a complete lockdown is imposed on Sunday. Jallikattu events have been permitted with restrictions, with bull tamers being forced to come with double vaccinations and negative RT-PCR test results. Buses can carry only 75% of their capacity and the government is making available more transport facilities to help people going home for Pongal celebrations.

Yet, not all states have enforced restrictions to slow the viral transmission. Health officials need to be on constant vigil over the movement of people so that they are ready for any emergency.

Muslims, Christians, Sikhs and people from other religions utilise constitutional guarantees and manage their own institutions. Why do Hindus not have this freedom?

WHY SHOULD THE GOVERNMENT RUN HINDU TEMPLES?

A SURYA PRAKASH

Former chairman of Prasar Bharati and Scholar, Democracy Studies

SOUMYADIP SINHA

One of the unexplained conundrums of independent, 'secular' India is the unabashed involvement of the government in the management of Hindu places of worship all over the country.

This issue, which has been simmering for decades but pushed under the carpet by the Nehruvians and Marxists, has now come to the fore because of the pragmatic initiative of Karnataka Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to liberate Hindu temples in his state from government control.

The Congress party, which has been the fountainhead of a dubious brand of secularism in the country since the days of Jawaharlal Nehru, had ensured government control over Hindu temples across the nation through various laws and regulations that fly against the basic secular tenets of the Constitution. In other words, the Nehru government continued the British policy of controlling temples and dipping into their funds.

The Preamble to the Constitution, when it first came into force in 1950, defined India as a "sovereign democratic republic". Later, during the Emergency, the Congress party added the words "socialist" and "secular" to the Preamble.

Apart from the Preamble, the assertion of the secular ideal can be seen in other articles of the Constitution, notably including Articles 25 and 26.

Article 25 guarantees freedom of conscience and free profession, practice and propagation of religion; Article 26 guarantees the freedom to manage religious affairs. It declares that every denomination or any section thereof shall have the right to establish and maintain institutions for religious and charitable purposes; to manage its own affairs in matters of religion; and to own and acquire property and administer it.

Muslims, Christians, Sikhs and other religious denominations utilise these constitutional guarantees to the fullest and manage their institutions. These institutions are out of bounds for the government. However, since Independence, the government has been intruding into the affairs of Hindu religious institutions in what constitutes gross contempt for this constitutional provision and for the sentiments of 100 crore Hindus in the country.

Such is the callous indifference of the Congress party to the fundamental principles in the Constitution that it has now begun advancing several bizarre arguments against Chief Minister Bommai's plan to liberate the temples.

Some of these arguments, including those of D K Shivakumar, President of the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC), are rather strange.

In his recent tweets in Kannada, Shivakumar says that the exchequer gets a lot of funds from Hindu temples in southern states. As a result of Covid, the state's treasury is getting emptied out. At a time like this, to liberate temples from state control and hand them over to private individuals is like rubbing salt into the wound.

Terming the Karnataka government's move a "historic blunder", Shivakumar contends that the temples are the "wealth of the government" because crores of rupees pour in from them into the treasury.

According to media reports, Karnataka has close to 35,000 temples and they are placed in three categories depending on the annual revenue they generate. The most prominent temples have generated around ₹1,400 crore in the last couple of years.

> What about Article 26? Is it the Congress party's contention that Hindus are barred from exercising the right to establish and maintain their religious places and manage the affairs of their religion?

The arguments of Shivakumar defy constitutional logic. He sees the offerings of Hindu devotees in temples as revenue, just like excise, sales tax and so on.

Sadly, the Hindus have allowed this to go on for so long that there are politicians in the country who believe that it is the right of the government to treat these places of worship as milch cows.

The statements of the KPCC president need to be challenged. It is indeed amazing to hear his argument that if the government disengages itself from the business of running temples, the state's revenues will drop! Would he dare ask the mosques, churches and gurdwaras in the state to remit all the offerings of devotees to the government treasury, since Covid continues to haunt us? How is it the responsibility of just Hindus to buttress the government's coffers during times of financial distress?

More importantly, since the Congress introduced the word 'secular' into the Preamble, can the KPCC president explain what this term means to him? Is not the equal treatment of all religions the central pillar of secularism? Further, what about Article 26? Is it the Congress party's contention that Hindus are barred from exercising the right to establish and maintain their religious places and manage the affairs of their religion?

One of the arguments advanced by pseudo-secularists is that if temples are managed by Hindu individuals, there will be chaos and mismanagement. Are Muslim and Christian religious places and institutions managed well? If they are not, will the government step in?

Bommai's move comes in the wake of growing sentiments against the government control of Hindu temples and the views of key public opinion influencers like Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev. He says there are 44,000 temples with over half a million acres of land under the management of the Tamil Nadu government. However, the revenue from these temples is a paltry ₹128 crore. In comparison, the Sadhguru says, the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee manages 85 gurdwaras, but its budget is over ₹1,000 crore. This statistic is indeed an eye-opener.

One must congratulate the Karnataka chief minister for having raised the red flag. He must live up to his promise, devise a system to disengage the government from temple control and set an example that all other states can follow.

HOW SCIENCE & TECH FLOURISHED IN ANCIENT INDIA

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

January 14 is Makara Sankranti, and it is celebrated all over the country and wherever Indian culture has spread. It is known as Bihu in Assam, Pongal in Tamil Nadu, Uttarayan in Uttar Pradesh, Shishur Saenkraat in Kashmir, Songkran in Thailand, Thingyan in Myanmar, Mohan Songkran in Cambodia and so on. On this day, the sun, the source of life on earth, transits into Capricorn and moves into the northern hemisphere. The knowledge of this astronomical feat is as old as the Indian civilisation.

Indian astronomy has a long history and was a Vedanga, an auxiliary discipline associated with the study of the Vedas, dating back to 1,500 BCE or earlier. Varahamihira, Aryabhata, Bhaskara, Brahmagupta and others were astronomers who even mention their scientific instruments. Maharaja Jai Singh II of Jaipur constructed five Jantar Mantars in New Delhi, Jaipur, Ujjain, Mathura and Varanasi. They give us a good idea of the early scientific tools.

India produced great scientists and mathematicians. Baudhayana in 800 BCE calculated the value of pi and discovered what is now known as the Pythagoras' theorem. Pythagoras lived in sixth century BCE Greece; and the third century CE sophist Philostratus says that Pythagoras studied under Hindu sages or gymnosophists in India. Brahmagupta lived in seventh century Ujjain and wrote several books on mathematics and astronomy. India was the source of the number system, now called the Arabic numerals because the Arabs took it everywhere. This number system is a feat of genius. It enables all numbers to be expressed with just ten symbols—the numbers 1 through 9 and the symbol for zero. Without this key, we would have a separate word for each number and be hopelessly confused. It is this brilliant Indian numeral system that makes mathematics, modern accounting, business deals and computer technology possible; from Wall Street to the space programme, modern civilisation depends on this number system. Brahmagupta was the first to discuss zero as a number and established the basic mathematical rules for it. He did a lot of work in geometry, trigonometry and discovered new theorems. He also explained how to find cubes, cube roots, squares and square roots.

Fifty years before the Italian mathematician Fibonacci wrote about the number sequence, now known as the Fibonacci numbers, a sage named Hemchandra wrote about this sequence, but even he was not the first Indian to do so. An earlier Indian mathematician named Gopala had also studied these numbers. And several earlier Indian mathematicians also knew about them.

In 500 CE, Aryabhata, and later Brahmagupta understood that the earth is round. They talked about gravity, saying that it is the nature of the earth to attract objects, causing them to fall towards the ground.

Bhaskaracharya wrote about arithmetic, geometry, algebra and calculus. Isaac Newton and Gottfried Wilhelm von Leibniz are given credit for being the first to introduce calculus, but Bhaskaracharya had written about it 500 years earlier. Bhaskaracharya had calculated the time taken for the earth to travel around the sun: 365.2588 days. The modern measurement is 365.25636, a difference of just 3.5 minutes. He did not work with instruments or computers. He knew that the earth travels around the sun at a time when the West did not; when people thought the sun revolved around the earth.

> Young people should be taught about the scientific and mathematical achievements of India. But it should be scientific, logical and truthful. Unfortunately, even centres of higher learning are claiming the impossible. We do not need to resort to falsehoods to establish our scientific prowess. The truth is sufficiently amazing

But it was not in mathematics alone that Indians flourished. Sushruta was a great surgeon who used 125 different surgical instruments and herbal sprays before an operation to prevent sepsis. His greatest contribution was in the fields of plastic surgery and cataract removal. When the British arrived, they learned these sciences from Indian doctors, cut off their fingers so that the Indians could never practise again, and introduced plastic and cataract surgery in British medical colleges as their invention. Charaka wrote about herbal treatments that Indians are just rediscovering. In 300 BCE, Patanjali codified the Yoga sutras. In 200 BCE, Kanada wrote about gravity and that the universe is made up of atoms. Nagarjuna was a great metallurgist and chemist. The list is endless.

Indian science and technology began at Mehrgarh (now in Pakistan) and continued throughout the country's history. People developed different systems of agriculture, irrigation, canals and water storage systems, including artificial lakes, by 3,000 BCE. Cotton was cultivated by 5,000–4,000 BCE. They farmed with animal-drawn ploughs in the Indus Civilisation in 2,500 BCE. The people of the Indus-Sarasvati region used weights and measures. Large numbers are used in the Vedas. The earliest-known dock in the world, which could berth and service ships, was situated at Lothal in Gujarat. Indian metallurgy was very advanced. Steel was made in India from 500 BCE. King Porus gifted Alexander a steel sword in 326 BCE. The iron pillar located in Delhi is seven metres high and has never rusted. Over 5,000 years ago, there were dentists in the Indus-Sarasvati region. A modern scientist who was looking at the teeth of people who had died there long ago found that ancient dentists had drilled teeth as far back as 9,000 years ago.

Young people should be taught about the scientific and mathematical achievements of India. But it should be scientific, logical and truthful. Unfortunately, even centres of higher learning are claiming the impossible. We do not need to resort to falsehoods to establish our scientific prowess. The truth is sufficiently amazing. What we can be sure of is that India played a central role in all that is known today of mathematics and many sciences, and our civilisation discovered these concepts several millennia before they were known in Europe.

Hasty alliances short-lived

The ongoing confusion in poll-bound UP, with hectic attempts at political realignments after the successive resignation of BJP ministers, reflects how personal ambitions among party leaders override their credentials as men of principle. But hasty alliances and unprincipled defections will be short-lived.

R Pikhumani, Kumbakonam

Political opportunism

Uttar Pradesh Cabinet ministers Swami Prasad Maurya and Dara Singh Chauhan, considered to be the faces of backward classes in the BJP, have resigned for the reason that the Yogi government had not 'done anything' for BCs. Some MLAs have followed suit and it is perceived that there will be more. They are likely to join the SP. The two former ministers had earlier jumped ship from the BSP to the BJP. If they felt the SP had done yeomen service for BCs, why didn't they join the party right away? Why did it take them five years to realise that the BJP had not done anything? This is nothing but political opportunism by the leaders.

K-Rail not realistic

The Indian Railways expressing concern over the financial viability of Kerala's K-Rail project is a step in the right direction. Currently, there is a lack of clarity on the estimated revenue and passenger numbers for the project. The ecological imbalance that would be created is far beyond any estimate. The project is not realistic.

Contain infection spread

This is with reference to Ad hoc Delhi Covid response shows lack of coherence (Jan 13). Delhi has seen its daily Covid cases tally making records in the wake of the Omicron spread. Strengthening the vaccination drive and awarding stringent punishment to those who violate Covid protocols can contain the spread of the infection.

Ecosystem for job growth

The article India's paradox: Vacant posts and joblessness (Jan 9), has hit the nail on the head when it conveyed that the creation of an ecosystem that could propel job growth in the country should be the primary focus of our policymakers. The presence of vacancies in government departments cannot be counted as the correct barometer of net joblessness in the country; a massive right-sizing is being attempted in those organisations. What successive governments failed to ensure was equal growth of all the sectors of the economy. This resulted in lopsided growth and the inability of workers to switch jobs across sectors seamlessly. Demonetisation and a botched implementation of the GST followed by two spells of the pandemic have crippled the unorganised sectors, resulting in massive unemployment/underemployment in the country.

AstraZeneca says its third dose fit against Omicron

WHO panel considers changes in composition of current vaccines

Health workers admit a Covid-19 patient to hospital amid rising number of cases in Kolkata, on Thursday | PTI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EVEN as the World Health Organization has said that the existing Covid-19 vaccines may need to be reworked to ensure they are effective against Omicron, AstraZeneca declared that additional analysis from an ongoing trial has showed increased antibody response to Omicron after a third dose of its vaccine. AstraZeneca's Vaxzevria is available in India under the brand name of Covishield, produced by the Serum Institute of India.

A technical committee under the WHO, comprising of independent experts, said it would consider a change in vaccination composition and stressed that shots needed to be more effective in protecting against infection. "The composition of current Covid-19 vaccines may need to be updated to ensure that vaccines continue to provide WHO-recommended levels of protection against infection and disease by variants of concern, including Omicron and future variants," the technical body, tasked with making recommendations to the WHO, has said in a statement. "Covid-19 vaccines need to elicit immune responses that are broad, strong, and long-lasting in order to reduce the need for successive booster doses."

A vaccination strategy based on repeated booster doses of the original vaccine composition is unlikely to be appropriate or sustainable, the statement said. However, it stopped short of advocating an Omicron-specific vaccine at this stage, saying more research was required and urging manufacturers to share data.

Meanwhile, AstraZeneca said in a statement latest data from the vaccine's ongoing clinical trials in the UK add to the growing body of evidence supporting Vaxzevria as a third dose booster irrespective of the primary vaccination schedules tested. The company is submitting these additional data to health authorities around the world given the urgent need for third dose boosters, the statement mentioned.

Delta hit kids more in 2nd wave: ICMR study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Delta variant of the Covid virus was the predominant variant that largely hit Indian children during the second wave last summer, a study by the ICMR has established.

The study, whose preprint has been released on medRxiv, analysed paediatric samples collected between March and June 2021 and highlighted the importance of genomic surveillance among paediatric Covid patients too.

The analysis has shown that out of 512 samples from kids that were subjected to whole genome sequencing, 372 were variants of concern and 51 were variants of interest. Importantly, the most common lineages observed were Delta, followed by Kappa, Alpha and B.1.36, seen in 65.82%, 9.96%, 6.83% and 4.68%, respectively, in the study population.

"Overall, it was observed that Delta was the leading cause of SARS CoV-2 infection in Indian children during the second wave," the researchers noted. "We emphasise on the need of continuous genomic surveillance in SARS-CoV-2 infection even amongst children." Among the kids studied, more than half of the 145 samples were from males and the median age was 13 years. Actually, 51.8% belonged to the 13-19 age group, 41.2% to 3-12 years and the rest 7% less than 3 years.

Symptoms were reported among 37.2% of patients. Symptom profile was available for only 74 patients, with fever, cough, runny nose and sore throat being the most common noted in 60%, 49.3%, 23.4% and 12% of the kids, respectively. The fourth serosurvey showed more than 50% children in the 6-17 group were seropositive.

Mumbai deaths higher among 60-plus

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation's health department data revealed that Covid-19 mortality rate in higher among the 60-plus age group even though they were fully vaccinated. The younger population is less vulnerable.

Mortality rate is 4.36% in the 60-plus group with the first dose and 3.30% in those with both doses. This data is from February 1, 2021, to January 10, 2022. In the 18-44 age group, mortality rate is 0.22% for those with the first dose and 0.21% for persons with two doses. In persons aged between 45 and 60 years, it's 1.95% for those with a single dose and 1.06% for those with both shots. It shows that fewer fully vaccinated people are succumbing to Covid-19 compared to the partially or unvaccinated.

In unvaccinated and infected persons, mortality is almost 94%. The younger unvaccinated population is more vulnerable than the older. Data reveal that in unvaccinated persons aged between 18 and 44 years, mortality rate is 99.57%. In the 45-60 age group without the vaccine, this is 96.99% and 92.34% for people above 60. From February 1, 2021, to January 10, 2022, a total of 4,338 unvaccinated persons died of Covid-19. In the same period, 154 with the first dose succumbed to the disease. For the fully vaccinated, this figure is 112.

Maharashtra health minister Rajesh Tope said that after understanding the importance of vaccines, many people are coming forward. He also said that the state is facing a shortage of vaccines. He added that he has received complaints from district authorities about this. "We have asked the Central government to provide 50 lakh more doses of Covidshied and 50 lakh doses of Covaxin to meet the growing vaccination demand," Tope said.

Maharashtra has been one of the worst affected states, with numbers refusing to come down since last year.

SHOCKING GANG-RAPE OF MINOR GIRL IN RAJASTHAN

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a horrific incident which brought back memories of the Nirbhaya tragedy a decade ago, gang rape of a hearing and speech impaired minor girl in Alwar district has shaken Rajasthan.'

The 14-year-old was allegedly abducted by a group of men who not only raped her but also inflicted injuries on her private parts with a sharp object. The culprits, who are absconding, threw her on a flyover and allegedly ran away in a car. The girl required an operation by a team of doctors in Jaipur, which lasted three hours.

The state government has formed a special investigation team to nab the culprits. Opposition party BJP has called it an example of deteriorating law and order situation in the state under the Congress government.

The victim was brought to hospital in a bleeding condition. Internal parts of her body have been damaged. After the operation, the girl was referred to the ICU. At present, her condition remains critical. She will be kept under observation.

Superintendent of JK Lawn Hospital, Dr Arvind Shukla, said the girl was operated on by a team of five doctors. "There is a deep wound in the inner parts. When she was brought to the hospital, she was bleeding profusely. After the operation, she was shifted to the ICU. Counseling will be done after she gains consciousness," he added.

The girl had left her house around 4 pm on Tuesday. It is not yet known where and how the perpetrators abducted her. There has been a stir in the police department after the incident. An SIT has been formed to investigate the case and arrest the accused. SP Tejaswani Gautam said the minor was thrown out on a culvert after being gang-raped. "The victim was lying there for about an hour. She lost so much blood that the road turned red. Some passersby saw her and informed the police," he said.

The District Collector has approved ₹3.5 lakh from the government to the family of the minor. Top officials were seen visiting the hospital.

11 states report loss of forest cover in govt survey report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA has lost moderately dense forest cover between 2019 and 2021 to the tune of 1,540 sq km, with 11 states reporting an overall loss, according to the India State of Forest Report 2021 by the Forest Survey of India (FSI).

The report said there has been an increase of 2,261 sq km in the total forest and tree cover of the country in the last two years but the change in very dense forest (pristine forest) was 501 sq km, while open forest, comprising plantations and agroforestry, cover increased by 2,612 sq km. The FSI defines very dense forest (with tree canopy density of 70% or above), moderately dense forest (tree canopy density of 40% or above but less than 70%) and open forest (tree canopy density of 10% or above but less than 40%).

States reporting an increase in forest cover include Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Odisha, Karnataka and Jharkhand. The gain in these states is primarily in open forest areas. In a worrying trend, almost all the north-east states show loss in forest cover — Arunachal Pradesh (257 sq km), Manipur (249 sq km), Nagaland (235 sq km), Mizoram (186 sq km), Meghalaya (73 sq km).

The report attributes loss in forest cover and deterioration of forest canopy to shifting cultivation, felling of trees, natural calamities, anthropogenic pressure and developmental activities. The report revealed that the mangrove cover has increased, but it was also limited to an increase in open mangrove cover which is plantation, while the moderately dense mangrove cover remains mainly unchanged. Total forest and tree cover of the country is 80.9 million hectares.

INDIA-CHINA DIALOGUE

No breakthrough in 14th round of LAC talks

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE stalemate that marked the 13th round of India-China Corps Commander level talks in October persisted in the 14th round of dialogues held at Chushul-Moldo border meeting point on the Chinese side on January 12. This meeting, too, was inconclusive.

Without mentioning anything about the Hot Springs (Patrolling Point 15) stand-off, the Indian and Chinese sides issued a joint statement on Thursday. "The two sides also agreed to consolidate on the previous outcomes and make effective efforts to maintain the security and stability on the ground in the Western Sector, including during winter," said the statement.

The two sides agreed to stay in close contact and maintain dialogue via military and diplomatic channels and work out a mutually acceptable resolution of the remaining issues at the earliest. In this context, it was also agreed that the next round of the India-China Corps Commander level talks should be held as soon as possible.

The two sides had a frank and in-depth exchange of views for the resolution of relevant issues along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in the Western Sector. They agreed that both sides should follow the guidance provided by the state leaders and work for a resolution of the remaining issues at the earliest.

Meanwhile, China on Thursday reacted to Indian Army Chief General MM Naravane's comments made a day earlier that Indian troops will remain at the Line of Actual Control for as long as required and that the Chinese army mobilising troops and resources in eastern Ladakh was causing all the problems. China said it hopes "relevant people" from the Indian side will refrain from making "unconstructive comments."

'Minor's welfare key in custody case, not parents' legal rights'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday observed that the rights of parents are irrelevant when a court decides the issue of custody of their minor child. A bench headed by Justices Ajay Rastogi and Abhay S Oka said, "There is a well-settled law that the issue regarding custody of a minor and the issue of repatriation of the child to the native country has to be addressed on the sole criteria of the welfare of the minor and not on consideration of the legal rights of the parents."

The observation came in a case wherein the Punjab and Haryana High Court issued several directions while allowing a petition for habeas corpus filed by the husband seeking custody of a minor child. The mother was directed to return to USA along with the child on or before September 30, 2021. Challenging this order, the mother had approached the top court.

Knowing Urdu not needed for Ladakh revenue dept job

Srinagar: The Lt Governor administration in Ladakh Union Territory has removed the requirement of knowing Urdu for jobs in the revenue department, evoking a mixed response. Lt Governor R K Mathur amended the Ladakh Revenue (Subordinate) Service Recruitment Rule, 2021, by removing the eligibility of 'knowledge of Urdu language' for Naib-Tehsildar and Patwari posts in the revenue department. Earlier, graduation and knowledge of Urdu was mandatory. Political and other activists of the region have criticised the move, saying Urdu is spoken and understood in both Kargil and Leh districts of Ladakh.

PM security breach: Air Force log, Blue Book to be scrutinised

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court-appointed committee probing the Prime Minister's security breach during his trip to Punjab will go through the Indian Air Force logs to see the reports handed by them to the SPG and whether they had given security clearance for the chopper to fly the PM from Bhatinda to the rally site or if they had declined, like is being projected.

Contents of the Blue Book, which contains detailed procedure and all modalities to be observed by the state authorities, would also be scrutinised.

A senior NIA official said the committee by examining the Air Force logs, would ascertain who took the call to take the PM by road. During the visit to Punjab on January 5, PM Narendra Modi was stranded 10 kms from the Pakistan border while on his way to address a political rally in Ferozepur.

The committee, headed by former Supreme Court judge Indu Malhotra, will also probe if there was any criminal conspiracy. "Role of SPG and Punjab Police relating to inputs provided by the Intelligence Bureau would be examined in detail," the official said.

Sources in the home ministry said the Intelligence Bureau has informed that they had shared inputs with Punjab government stating that "some sort of demonstration or agitation" could take place. Sources also pointed out that the IB had cautioned Punjab Police that Gurpatwant Singh Pannu of the banned outfit Sikhs For Justice had been provoking local youths and luring them with money. Issuing an alert, it asked the Punjab government to remain vigilant as the venue of the PM's function was close to the border with Pakistan.

BJP finalises UP first list, pact with allies

Apna Dal, Nishad Party likely to get 13-14 seats each while some of their nominees to be accommodated on BJP symbol

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE BJP's Central Election Committee (CEC) on Thursday finalized over 170 candidates for the first three phases of the Uttar Pradesh Assembly elections, with names including those of biggies like Yogi Adityanath likely to be unveiled in the next few days.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi attended the meeting in a hybrid mode due to the prevailing Covid pandemic, with BJP chief J P Nadda, who is down with infection, linking up through video conference.

Ahead of the CEC meeting, Union Home Minister Amit Shah held extensive deliberations with the core group of the UP unit, including Yogi, to examine the list of nominees shortlisted a few days ago.

Shah is also learnt to have held discussions with the leaders of Apna Dal and Nishad Party to give a final shape to the seat adjustments, with both the allies likely to get 13-14 seats each, and a few of their nominees to be accommodated on the BJP symbol, sources said.

The meeting presided over by Shah in the run up to the CEC meeting lasted several hours late in the previous night as the top brass examined the prospects of the nominees shortlisted by the state unit along with their ground assessment reports. The BJP CEC meeting was also attended by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh through virtual mode.

With Ram temple being the major pivot of the electioneering, the BJP is likely to announce the nomination of Yogi from Ayodhya. The CM has seemingly been working on his political profile with the construction of the Ram temple and the redevelopment works in the city.

Deputy CM Keshav Prasad Mourya said that the CEC has given a final shape to candidates for 172 candidates.

The EC is slated to issue the notification for the first phase of the elections on Friday , which will also commence the nomination process.

300 candidates already finalised: BSP leader

Lucknow: The Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) has already decided at least 300 of its total 403 candidates for Uttar Pradesh. Of these, 90 are Dalits, party general secretary S C Misra said. Taking a swipe at rivals, he said BJP and SP were yet to finalise their candidates as they lacked confidence in their leaders. "Of the 300 names finalised so far, 90 are Dalits and their number will rise as candidates for the rest of the seats are decided," he said.

Postponing polls not court's job: U'khand HC

Dehradun: The Uttarakhand High Court on Thursday refused to postpone assembly elections while hearing a petition demanding the same amid rising Covid cases. It also refused to pass orders banning physical rallies. "Postponing elections is not the job of the Court. The Election Commission of India (ECI) has already given certain directions. The ECI is a unique institution doing a commendable job," the high court observed.

Exodus has changed UP scenario: Pawar

Mumbai: NCP chief Sharad Pawar said the recent exodus in BJP has changed the political scenario in Uttar Pradesh. While inducting BJP and other party leaders on Thursday, Pawar said that 15 days ago, people used to say nothing will happen in Uttar Pradesh. "Some people were confident of BJP coming to power in UP. But in last two days, the scenario has changed. Several BJP MLAs are joining the secular forces. People power is supreme," Pawar said.

We have submitted list of seats to BJP: JD-U leader

Patna: While JD-U has given indications to contest the UP polls in alliance with BJP, Hindustani Awami Morcha, Vikasheel Insaan Party and Lok Janshakti Party have kept their options open. JD-U national president Rajiv Ranjan Singh said the JD-U has already submitted the list of seats the party wished to contest to the BJP. "The BJP brass will have take a final call. Response is awaited," the senior JD-U leader said.

Public to decide AAP's Punjab CM face: Kejriwal

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

AFTER much dilly-dallying on its CM face, the Aam Aadmi Party left it on the people to decide the party's top candidate in Punjab.

Ruling himself and Bhagwant Mann out of the CM race, AAP national convenor Arvind Kejriwal launched a number (70748 70748) on which the people should call or message or WhatsApp their choice of CM candidate.

The number will remain open till 5 PM on January 17.

"For the first time in the history of India, Aam Aadmi Party is choosing the Chief Minister face by asking the people. We are certain that the Chief Minister face of Aam Aadmi Party will be the next Chief Minister of Punjab. So, it will be decided by the people of Punjab who will be their chief minister," Kejriwal said.

"Most parties often decide on CM from their immediate families. But today the Aam Aadmi Party is ending this cult of nepotism, and decided to give this right to the people of Punjab. We will declare the CM face according to the mandate of the people."

Referring to Bhagwant Mann's name for the CM face, Kejriwal said his colleague was very dear to him. "He is like my younger brother and the tallest leader of the party in Punjab. Bhagwant Mann said that we should stop the practice of deciding the CM behind closed doors," Kejriwal said

"We should decide our CM face, according to the public opinion, so that people can have confidence that this Chief Minister is ours and we have chosen him. We will work according to the people."

In June last year, Kejriwal had announced that the AAP chief ministerial candidate in Punjab will be from the Sikh community.

On his part, Mann said he was a loyal soldier of the party. "I will perform any duty given to me. If I am asked to paste posters on walls or wave the party symbol at some chowk, I will happily do that. For me, Punjab is important.... Kejriwal has reposed a lot of trust in me," he added.

Rawat not keen to contest polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

AFTER pushing his name for Chief Minister's face in Uttarakhand, Congress campaign committee chief Harish Rawat said that he was not keen to contest the election and that the final decision rests with the party high command.

The former CM said that he would want to take charge of the campaign and let other party leaders contest. "The final decision is with the central election committee."

His comments come days after he lashed out at the party leadership for not being supportive and that he feels like quitting. Rawat and state in charge Devender Yadav have differences over the party's election strategy and both were called to Delhi to address concerns.

Earlier, the Congress top brass had appointed senior leader Mohan Prakash as observer for its campaign management in the hill state.

The party did not name Rawat as the party's face for the election but that he will be in charge of the party's campaign and all should support him.

PRIYANKA KEEPS WORD, GIVES 40% TICKETS TO WOMEN

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

TAKING a lead over its rivals, the Congress party released its first list of 125 candidates on Thursday with 40 per cent seats reserved for women including the mother of Unnao rape survivor and anti-CAA activist Sadaf Zafar.

Additionally, popular faces like CLP leader and sitting MLA from Rampur Khas Aradhana Mishra Mona, veteran Salman Khurshid's wife Loius Khurshid from Farrukhbad and party leader from Sitapur and former NCW member Shamina Shafiq also figure in the list.

AICC general secretary and party's UP incharge Priyanka Gandhi Vadra kept her promise to allot 40 per cent seats to women.

"We believe in politics of development and positive campaign which is not possible till women come forward and join hands in public interest," Priyanka said announcing the names to the media persons through a video link.

With the idea of political empowerment of those who have struggled against the social orders, the Congress gave ticket to Asha Singh from Unnao. It also has the name of Ritu Singh from Mohammadi seat of Lakhimpur Kheri district who was allegedly manhandled by a rival group while she was going to file her nomination for the panchayat election last year.

Our list gives a new message — if there is injustice with you, then you have the power to fight for your rights. In UP, the Congress will provide that power and will support and help you in all ways

Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, AICC general secretary

The leader of ASHA workers, Poonam Pandey, who was allegedly assaulted by the cops while trying to meet the UP CM to raise the issues plaguing ASHAs, was fielded from Shahjahanpur. Anti-CAA activist Sadaf Zafar, who will contest from Lucknow Central, was sent to jail during the anti-CAA protests.

Similarly, Alpana Nishad, who is the nominee from Allahabad South, had allegedly faced police atrocities upon raising the plight of the Nishad community caused by illegal mining.

The list comprises 29 reserved seats of which 17, around 58.6% have been allocated to women candidates. Similarly, the Congress has reposed faith in 20 (around 16 per cent) Muslim candidates, 45 (40 per cent) youth candidates to take forward the issues of development and change.

PCC chief Ajay Kumar Lallu will fight from his traditional Tamkuhi Raj seat of Kushinagar.

As for loyalists, Kazim Ali was given ticket from Rampur, and Supriya Aron repeated from Bareilly Cantt. Pradeep Mathur will contest from Mathura. Anugrah Narayan Singh and Akhilesh Pratap Singh are candidates at Allahabad North and Rudrapur.

WITH DEFECTIONS, RESIGNATIONS, IT COULD BE ANYONE'S GAME IN GOA

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

A spate of resignations by members of Goa's legislative assembly, and the way several top leaders are switching parties ahead of the February 14 assembly elections, has created an unprecedented situation in the coastal state. In an attempt to bolster their prospects in the coming polls, at least nine MLAs resigned from their assembly seats to join other parties in the past few weeks. Given the volatile political situation in Goa, more legislators are expected to resign or change sides once the BJP and Congress release their final list of candidates.

Most of the defections have taken place as legislators are keen to safeguard their political and personal gains. "A major reason why legislators are quitting is that BJP and Congress are not so keen on fielding all their sitting MLAs in the polls. In a desperate attempt to secure party tickets for themselves and their associates, the leaders are switching sides, making sure their demands are met by the party they are joining," says Prakash Bhat, senior journalist from Goa.

While the defection of some leaders may not impact the prospects of their parties, mainly BJP and Congress, several political analysts feel the departure of some heavyweight MLAs could definitely affect equations. The fresh switchover of Michael Lobo, minister in the Pramod Sawant cabinet, to the Congress is expected to jeopardise the BJP's chances of winning maximum seats in Bardez taluk, North Goa district, where Lobo has massive clout in most of the seven assembly segments.

Speaking to TNIE on why he quit the BJP to join the Congress, Lobo said, "The BJP in Goa is not the one it was 15 years ago. It has failed to deliver effectively, and did not meet the aspirations of the people of Goa. We've seen that the BJP government never cared for the people at the grassroots."

He said the Congress would not only win maximum seats in Bardez, but would also end up winning 22 seats in the state. "However, it is up to the people of Goa to decide ultimately who should win how many seats," he added. A two-time MLA from Calangute assembly segment, Lobo was the strong minority face of the BJP in Goa. "Lobo is one of the richest legislators in Goa, capable of helping the party perform better in his taluk. He is said to have joined the Congress, assuring to help the party win a maximum number of seats in Bardez. The Congress is said to have promised party tickets to him and his wife, besides some of his associates, in the seven assembly segments in Bardez," says political analyst Kishore Naik Gaonkar.

A section of Congress leaders in North Goa is upset over the induction of Lobo, as they feel it could deprive them of a chance. Sources in the Congress said efforts are on to convince the disgruntled leaders. In Bardez, where BJP has three seats in its kitty, Lobo's exit has put the saffron party in a spot.

Goa Cong leader hops to TMC

In what comes as a shot in the arm for the Goa Trinamool Congress, former MLA and general secretary of Goa Pradesh Congress Committee Victor Gonsalves joined the party in the presence of Lok Sabha MP and AITC Goa incharge Mahua Moitra, in Panaji on Thursday. Gonsalves said, "I quit the Congress because there is no future for the party in Goa."

Join us to defeat BJP, TMC calls on Congress

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

WITH elections to the Goa assembly just one month away, the All India Trinamool Congress (AITC) continues its efforts to bring together all "anti-BJP" forces, in an attempt to defeat the BJP.

Lok Sabha MP and AITC Goa in-charge Mahua Moitra said the Congress alone is incapable of defeating the BJP, and the Trinamool is asking all anti-BJP forces to come together. Reacting to a recent comment by Congress' Goa poll in-charge P Chidambaram, who claimed that the fight in Goa was between the Congress and BJP, Moitra said, "I want to remind Mr Chidambaram that despite winning the mandate, the Congress failed to form the government in 2017. This time too, Congress alone is incapable of defeating the BJP...If it was a binary fight between the BJP and Congress, there would have been no need for the TMC to come to Goa. It is time for the Congress to wake up to its depleted strength and take notice of what the people of Goa want." She said none of the parties _ Congress, AAP or TMC _ can stake a claim that they are the only anti-BJP parties.

DELHI HIGH COURT STAYS OPAQUE CHESS LEAGUE TENDER

SHAHID FARIDI @New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court has stayed the All India Chess Federation's (AICF) tender to organise the 'Indian Chess League', 'Online Chess League' and 'Chess in School' after a petition was filed charging the federation with refusal to clearly inform bidders about the nature of contract and the scope of work.

A two-judge bench, comprising justices Vipin Sanghi and Jasmeet Singh, in its order on Wednesday that was uploaded a day later, said: "The petitioner is aggrieved by the clandestine manner in which the respondent Nos. 1 & 2 have sought to tender the services... (It) was wholly cryptic and no terms and conditions of tender were circulated to the prospective and interested bidders."

The order further said "despite the petitioner raising pertinent questions seeking information, there was no response and those queries were not responded to. We are, therefore, inclined to restraint respondent Nos. 1 & 2 from proceeding to either award the contract in relation to the said tender, or carry out any work in respect thereof, if the tender is awarded, till the next date." The next hearing is February 16.

The writ petition by bidder Shivalik Poultries named the AICF as respondent number one, AICF honorary secretary Bharat Singh Chauhan as respondent 2, and the Centre through the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports as the third respondent. The Union of India is made a party as the AICF is a Government of India-recognised national sports federation.

TNIE was the first newspaper to raise the issue of lack of transparency in the AICF tender process and the bidders' concern. The petitioner had annexed a copy of the newspaper article to the petition. The AICF has decided to hold Indian Chess League (ICL) from June 2022 on the lines of the hugely popular Indian Premier League organised by the Board of Control for Cricket in India. Like the IPL, the ICL will have multiple franchises owning multiple players from India and abroad. The event is expected to generate thousands of crores of rupees in revenue. Besides the ICL, the AICF plans to hold two additional events namely 'Online Chess League' and 'Chess in School'. An advertisement was issued last month inviting expression of interest from interested parties to organise these events. The lack of details in this advertisement left the prospective bidders puzzled.

The advertisement read: "The All India Chess Federation invites companies to submit an expression of Interest for a proposed Online Chess League and partner in Chess in School programme to take place from 2022. Interested experienced parties having sound financial background may submit their applications with complete details to email: indianchessfed@gmail.com by 25th December 2021."

Apart from the lack of clarity on what a "sound financial background" was, and what "complete details" the bidders were required to provide, prospective bidders found the absence of a request for proposal, which is usually put out to describe the scope of work, financial arrangements and qualifying criteria, surprising. Neither was any pre-bid meeting held to give details of the project.

Germany convicts Syrian ex-colonel in 'historic' torture trial

Anwar Raslan sentenced to life in prison for 'crimes against humanity', found guilty of overseeing murder of 27 people at Al-Khatib detention centre in Damascus

KOBLENZ

A GERMAN court on Thursday sentenced a former Syrian colonel to life in jail for crimes against humanity in a "historic" verdict marking the end of the first global trial over state-sponsored torture in Syria.

Anwar Raslan, 58, was found guilty of overseeing the murder of 27 people and the torture of 4,000 others at the Al-Khatib detention centre in Damascus, also known as 'Branch 251', in 2011 and 2012. He sought refuge in Germany after deserting the Syrian regime in 2012.

During the trial, more than 80 witnesses testified about what the court in Koblenz called "catastrophic conditions" in the centre, which had a reputation for being especially brutal. They took the stand despite "a great fear of the Syrian regime, whether for themselves or for their families", said presiding judge Anne Kerber. Bashar al-Assad's regime had resorted to "violence" and "the heavy use of munitions" to suppress protests that erupted in March 2011, Kerber said, stressing that "the Syrian regime is not here in the court".

Detainees were not only "tortured but also starved and deprived of air" in unsanitary, crowded cells where they could not sit or lie down, she said.

Wassim Mukdad, a victim who testified before the courts, voiced relief over the verdict.

Women hold posters and photographs during a demonstration outside the courthouse in Koblenz, western Germany, on Thursday | AFP

"It is a sign that torture and crimes that took place in Syria are crimes against humanity and perpetrators must pay."

UN rights chief Michelle Bachelet called the verdict a "landmark leap forward in the pursuit of truth, justice and reparations for the serious human rights violations perpetrated in Syria over more than a decade".

> The court in Koblenz clearly and formally established inhumane detention conditions, systematic torture, sexual violence and killings in Syria
>
> Markus N Beeko, head of Amnesty International, Germany

"The court in Koblenz clearly and formally established inhumane detention conditions, systematic torture, sexual violence and killings in Syria," said Markus N. Beeko, head of Amnesty International in Germany.

Syrian activists gathered outside the court on Thursday holding banners and posters with slogans such as "Where are they?" referring to their relatives who have disappeared in Syrian detention centres.

Raslan was put on trial in April 2020 along with another lower-ranking defendant, Eyad al-Gharib, who was accused of helping to arrest protesters and deliver them to the centre. Gharib was sentenced to four-and-a-half years in prison last year for complicity in crimes against humanity, in the first global verdict over torture by Syrian President Bashar al-Assad's government.

The case against the two men was brought using the legal principle of universal jurisdiction, which allows offences to be prosecuted even if they were committed in a different country.

'Fists, wires and whips'

Prosecutors say he oversaw rape and sexual abuse, "electric shocks", beatings with "fists, wires and whips" and "sleep deprivation" at the prison.

Witnesses reported flogging, electric shocks, cigarette burns and blows to the genitals. Some say they were hung by the wrists, with only the tips of their feet still touching the ground.

One man testified about mass graves that he was responsible for cataloguing. AFP

Russia-led troops pull back from Kazakhstan

Almaty: Russian troops were loading onto planes taking-off from Kazakhstan on Thursday after President Vladimir Putin said their mission to quell protests that turned into unprecedented violence in the Central Asian country had ended. The decision to dispatch troops was a first for the Moscow-led Collective Security Treaty Organisation, an alliance of ex-Soviet states often touted by Russia as a NATO equivalent, following an urgent plea from Kazakhstan's leadership. Twitter back in Nigeria after seven-month ban

Abuja: Twitter was restored in Nigeria on Thursday after the government lifted a seven-month ban on the social media giant for deleting a tweet by President Muhammadu Buhari. Nigeria halted Twitter operations in June, provoking an international outcry over freedom of expression. The government and Twitter had been in negotiations over restoring the service based on a few conditions, including Twitter registering its operations in Nigeria. AFP

Iran website showcases drone strike on Trump

TEHRAN

THE website of Iran's supreme leader has showcased an animated video that appears to show a robot calling in a drone strike to assassinate former United States president Donald Trump.

The animated video was part of a contest to mark the 2020 killing of Iranian Gen. Qassem Soleimani, who was slain in an American drone strike in Baghdad.

The video, posted on Wednesday on the website of Khamenei's office, appears to show Trump, on the golf course at his Mar-a-Lago, Florida, being targeted in a drone strike. The video mirrored a propaganda poster last year also showing Trump on a golf course, calling for revenge for Soleimani's slaying.

Earlier this month, Iran's hard-line President Ebrahim Raisi demanded Trump be "prosecuted and killed". "If not, I'm telling all American leaders, don't doubt that the hand of revenge will come out of the sleeves of ummah," Raisi said, referring to the worldwide Muslim community. AP

Poland warns of war risk as Russia sees 'no point' in talks on Ukraine

VIENNA

THE world's largest security body met in Vienna on Thursday, hoping to push Russia and the West towards dialogue to defuse a mounting crisis on Ukraine's border where Russian troops have massed, sparking fears of war.

The US and its European allies have accused Russia of deploying tanks, artillery and about 1,00,000 soldiers on Ukraine's war-torn eastern border in recent weeks, in what NATO says is preparation for an invasion. But Moscow says this is a response to what it sees as the growing presence of NATO in its sphere of influence, where it fiercely opposes the expansion of the Atlantic alliance.

Moscow and Washington have already underlined their "fundamental" differences on European security during tense talks in Geneva and Brussels this week.

Helga Schmid, the secretary general of the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE), said the situation in the region was "perilous", noting "the urgent need to reinvigorate the debate on European security". "It is imperative we find a way through diplomacy to deescalate and begin rebuilding trust, transparency and cooperation," she said, opening the Vienna-based body's first meeting of its permanent council this year, attended by all 57 member states including Russia and the US.

But Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov cast a dampener on Thursday, saying: "I do not see reasons to sit down in the coming days, to gather again and start the same discussions".

Foreign Minister Zbigniew Rau of Poland, which chairs the OSCE this year, said the tensions posed a "challenge" for the organisation, a multilateral forum for East-West discussions founded during the Cold War's detente phase. "It seems that the risk of war in the OSCE area is now greater than ever before in the last 30 years," he said.

The US has also admitted no breakthrough is expected at Thursday's OSCE meeting.

EU foreign policy chief Josep Borrell said on Thursday that there should be no negotiations with Russian authorities over the fate of Ukraine so long as Moscow is massing troops at the country's border. "Russian movements are part of the pressure," Borrell said ahead of a meeting of EU defence and foreign ministers. AFP

UK, EU resume talks on Brexit trade spat

LONDON

UK Foreign Secretary Liz Truss called for Britain and the European Union to rebuild their relationship, as she and bloc's top Brexit official met on Thursday for talks on a thorny dispute over Northern Ireland trade. Truss and European Commission Vice President Maros Sefcovic were meeting at Chevening House, the foreign secretary's official country retreat in southeast England.

Truss urged the EU to show a 'pragmatic approach' to resolving problems that have soured the relationship since Britain left the 27-nation bloc last year. "As fellow believers in liberty and democracy, we should be capable of reaching an agreement that delivers for Northern Ireland and allows us to unleash the full potential of our relationship," she said.

Sefcovic said he wanted "stability" and "predictability" for Northern Ireland, the only part of the UK sharing a border with an EU member and where wrangling over post-Brexit rules has been centred.

As part of the divorce deal, the two sides agreed to keep Northern Ireland inside the EU's tariff-free single market for goods to maintain an open border on the island of Ireland — a key pillar of Northern Ireland's peace process. That created a new customs border in the Irish Sea for goods entering Northern Ireland from the rest of the UK even though they are part of the same country.

The arrangement has brought red tape and supply problems for some businesses, and it has angered Northern Ireland's British Unionists, who say the checks undermine Northern Ireland's place in the UK and destabilise the delicate balance of peace. AP

Russia charges six after leak of horrific prison rape videos

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN investigators said on Thursday that six people, including two officials, had been charged over the rape and torture of prisoners in a case that drew widespread condemnation from rights groups.

A prisoner advocacy group last year published harrowing footage of sexual abuse at a jail in the central city of Saratov. It was leaked by former inmate Sergei Savelyev, who fled Russia and requested asylum in France. In an interview published on Thursday, the head of the Investigative Committee, which handles serious crimes, said six people were facing legal action. "Four convicts were charged with committing violent acts of a sexual nature," Alexander Bastrykin told state news agency RIA Novosti. In addition, two officials are facing charges of abuse of power, he said, without specifying who the officials were.

"Their goal was intimidation and extortion," Bastrykin said, adding that authorities are investigating incidents involving 13 victims.

Videos of alleged rape and torture at a prison infirmary in Saratov were published by rights group Gulagu.net, which aims to expose abuses in Russia's prison system. AFP

Viral Egypt video fuels women's rights debate

CAIRO

A VIDEO of an Egyptian mother-of-three dancing that went viral online prompting her husband to divorce her and her employers to sack her has reignited fierce debates over women's rights. The brief video of Aya Youssef, 30, a primary school teacher, shows her wearing a headscarf, trousers and a long-sleeved top as she dances alongside colleagues, smiling as she enjoys a river cruise on the Nile.

But the video, which has been shared widely on social media since it was posted earlier this month, has split opinion. Some critics accuse her of breaching the conservative values of a largely Muslim society — while others stand firmly with her in solidarity.

In recent years, Egypt has witnessed several cases in which women have been subjected to defamation campaigns on social media, stirring angry demands for those responsible to be held to account.

Youssef said she was "happy" on the trip and that her moves were "spontaneous". Other colleagues were dancing alongside her on the boat in the sunshine, some waving their hands in the air. "All of us were dancing," she said.

After the video went viral, Egypt's education ministry referred the teacher to a disciplinary committee, where she was sacked from her job in the city of Mansoura. Amid a subsequent outcry, she was this week reinstated.

Egypt has long been regarded as the birthplace of belly dancing, but several belly dancers and pop singers have been targeted in recent years over online content deemed too racy or suggestive. Egypt has seen its community of homegrown dancers shrink as the country has become more conservative over the past half-century. AFP

NCLAT to hear Amazon's plea Vs CCI order on Feb 2

Asks CCI, Future Group and others to file their replies within 10 days

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

IN a new development in the future-Amazon case, the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Thursday agreed to hear Amazon's appeal against an order by The Competition Commission of India (CCI) suspending approval to its 2019 investment in the Future Group.

The appellate tribunal has asked CCI, Future Group and others to file their replies within 10 days and set the next hearing on Feb 2, a day before the deadline for Amazon to pay the ₹202 crore fine.

In December, 2021, the antitrust agency had put into "abeyance" its 2019 approval for Amazon's investment in Future Coupons (FCPL) and imposed a ₹202 crore fine on the US company as it found that Amazon had withheld certain information concerning Amazon's strategic interest in Future Retail.

Sources tracking the case said, Amazon last week had challenged the order asking NCLAT to review CCI's suspension to look at the ₹200-crore penalty. The plea was to call CCI and Future and hear everyone together so that a final order can be reached.

Meanwhile, the Supreme Court is also due to pass an order on Future Group's recent petition. The apex court will decide whether FRL can complete procedural steps in its proposal to sell assets to Reliance Retail or not.

The Supreme Court has been hearing pleas including Future Group's petition against the Delhi High Court's order declining its plea for stay on an arbitration tribunal decision refusing to interfere with the Singapore International Arbitration Centre SIAC's Emergency Award (EA), which prevented it from going ahead with the deal with Reliance Retail.

The dispute between Future group and Amazon started when the e-commerce giant dragged the latter to arbitration at SIAC in October 2020. Amazon argued that FRL violated their contract by entering into a deal for the sale of its assets to Reliance Retail on a slump sale basis for ₹24,500 crore.

Vedanta to spend $12 bn to buy BPCL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

VEDANTA Group on Thursday informed that it is willing to spend $12 billion to acquire India's state-owned refiner Bharat Petroleum Corporation Limited. While giving an interview to a foreign news wire service in Riyadh, chairman of Vedanta Anil Agarwal said the market cap of the company is about $11 billion to $12 billion, so this is the amount of investment we're looking at. "We're not going to bid aggressively, but we will put the right price," said Anil Agarwal.

Government's plan to privatise BPCL, under which it is planning to sell its entire stake of 52.98%, is in limbo. As per the reports, the country was expecting some global oil majors to participate in the sale. But some bidders are finding it difficult to invest due to global sustainability rules that make it tougher for them to make large investments in fossil fuels. It has already missed a September deadline to complete the sale of its entire 53% stake in BPCL. The company's current market value is around ₹84,827 crore ($11.4 bn).

Bidding likely to open by March 2022?

Vedanta expects India to open the bids for BPCL in March. The government, however, refused to comment on this issue. Private equity firms Apollo Global Management and I Squared Capital are also said to have shown interest in acquiring it.

The government has targeted disinvestment worth ₹1.75 lakh crore in FY22. Therefore, the sale of BPCL, the country's second-biggest refiner is essential for the government because it needs to raise revenues for its spending programmes.

Vedanta expects India to open the bids for BPCL in March. The government refused to comment on this issue. Private equity firms Apollo Global Management and I Squared Capital are said to have shown interest in acquiring it.

Attrition in IT sector goes up to 25%; firms looking to hire more fresh talents

UMA KANNAN @ New Delhi

FOR a few quarters now, IT companies have been reporting at least 20% increase in attrition rate, and this is said to continue till the middle of next fiscal.

IT services company Infosys saw attrition go up to 25.5% in the third quarter, Wipro reported attrition of 22.7% and Mindtree reported 21.9% attrition. Tata Consultancy Services alone managed to restrict attrition at 15.3%, which is lower than industry standards.

"We are seeing signs of attrition bottoming out," TCS top official said while announcing Q3 results.

Speaking about attrition, Wipro CEO Thierry Delaporte said, "Attrition is a reality across almost all industries. It has been no different for us. We expect attrition to slow down only after a few more quarters. However, we now feel more confident of having stabilised our attrition rate in Q3 and expect it to moderate next quarter."

Due to the record high attrition rates, the companies are also focusing on recruiting new talent, especially freshers.

Wipro will focus on building talents and the company plans to onboard over 70% more fresh talent from the campus in FY22 compared to FY21. It plans to hire 30,000 freshers in the next fiscal. Four IT firms- Mindtree (2,227), TCS(28,328), Infosys(12,450) and Wipro (10,306)- have added over 53,000 employees in the third quarter alone.

Manpower play

- Infosys saw attrition up to 25.5% in Q3FY22, Wipro reported 22.7% exits and Mindtree 21.9%. TCS restrict attrition at 15.3%
- Four IT firms — Mindtree (2,227), TCS(28,328), Infosys(12,450) and Wipro (10,306) — added over 53,000 staff in Q3FY22
- TCS promoted over 1 lakh people and it plans 40,000 more promotions in Q4

In H1FY22, TCS hired 43,000 freshers and in the third quarter alone it hired 34,000 people. Infosys also upped its fresher hiring to over 55,000 this fiscal.

The IT companies are also investing in upskilling and reskilling their employees. At the same time, these companies are also taking various measures to retain the existing talent.

TCS has promoted over 1 lakh people so far and the company during the earnings call said it plans 40,000 more promotions in the fourth quarter of FY22.

There is a high demand for digital talent and this is the reason behind record attrition, but there is more supply too, said a senior executive.

Top officials of IT companies said this attrition will stabilise or slow down in a few quarters.

'LIC IPO by March; draft papers to be filed by this month-end'

THE government will launch the mega public offer of LIC by March and file draft papers with market regulator Sebi by the end of this month, an official said.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had last week reviewed the progress of the initial public offering (IPO) of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) in a meeting with top officials of the ministry.

The official said the September 2021 quarter financials of LIC are getting finalised as well as fund bifurcation is in progress.

"We are hopeful of filing the DRHP (draft red-herring prospectus) with Sebi by month-end or early-February. One thing is for sure that IPO will come before the end of the current fiscal," the official told PTI.

LIC IPO is crucial for meeting the ₹1.75-lakh crore disinvestment target set for the current financial year ended March 2022. So far this fiscal, ₹9,330 crore has been mopped up through PSU disinvestment.

The government in September last year appointed 10 merchant bankers, including Goldman Sachs (India) Securities Pvt Ltd, Citigroup Global Markets India Pvt Ltd and Nomura Financial Advisory and Securities (India) Pvt Ltd to manage the IPO. Other selected bankers include SBI Capital Market, JM Financial, Axis Capital, BofA Securities, JPMorgan India, ICICI Securities, and Kotak Mahindra Capital. Cyril Amarchand Mangaldas has been appointed as legal advisor.

The government is in the process of deciding the quantum of government stake that will be divested through the IPO. The government is also mulling allowing foreign investors to pick up stakes in LIC.

According to Sebi rules, foreign portfolio investors (FPI) are permitted to buy shares in a public offer. However, since the LIC Act has no provision for foreign investments, there is a need to align the proposed LIC IPO with Sebi norms regarding foreign investor participation. PTI

Mindtree net profit rises 34% to ₹437 crore in Q3

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

MID-SIZE IT services firm Mindtree on Thursday reported a 34% increase in its net profit at ₹437 crore for the quarter ended December 31, 2021, compared to ₹326 crore in the same quarter last year.

The Bengaluru-based company's revenue was ₹2,750 crore in the third quarter, up 6.3% Q-o-Q and 35.9% Y-o-Y.

"We have continued our positive revenue momentum through the third quarter of FY22 on the back of robust demand, aggressive customer mining, and end-to-end digital transformation capabilities," said Debashis Chatterjee, CEO and Managing Director, Mindtree.

In line with the street expectation, the company reported sequential revenue growth of 5.2% in constant currency. The company's EBITDA margin for the quarter was 21.5%.

Khawaja to open for Oz in 5th Ashes Test

Marcus Harris has been cut from Australia's lineup for the fifth Ashes Test against England and Usman Khawaja will open the batting with David Warner. The day-night Test begins on Friday at Hobart. Australia won the first three matches to retain the Ashes before the teams played to a draw in Sydney. Jhye Richardson or Michael Neser might be called if Scott Boland isn't fully fit.

Will India's Pant pay off on Day 4?

After keeper's fabulous ton, visitors need eight wickets to script history; SA 111 away from memorable series win

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

CAPE Town has not been a happy ground for the Indian team. They have played there five times and have never won. But, paradoxically, some of India's greatest away 100s, at least ones having maximum recall value over the last three decades or so, have come at the venue. Sachin Tendulkar (twice) and Mohammad Azharuddin have showed it's possible to thrive in the face of elite pace bowling. On Thursday, Rishabh Pant joined the above-mentioned duo by scoring a priceless ton when others treated the surface like lava.

The other 10 players, and extras, together contributed 110 off 44.2 overs. Pant, who remained unbeaten on 100, got his runs off 23.1 overs. Thanks to his innings, coupled with another patient Virat Kohli hand (29 off 143), India now have the chance to do something they have never done in 29 years and three months of playing cricket in South Africa. A series win.

But it's not going to be easy. On a pitch where scoring fast is possible, the hosts need only 111 runs, with eight wickets in the bank. India, though, will fancy their chances of winning from just about any position.

DRS leaves India bemused

Even if they did get Dean Elgar from what turned out to be the final ball of the day, tempers were running high. The captain and a few of the players had lost their heads after an lbw decision had been reversed by tracking technology. Ravichandran Ashwin had seemingly trapped Elgar with the score on 60. It looked plumb in real-time, but tech had the ball missing the stumps. In the next 30 minutes or so, Kohli, KL Rahul and Ashwin — there may have been others as well — took out their frustration on the stump mic which has been ultra loud throughout the series. "You should find better ways to win, Supersport (host broadcaster)," Ashwin said. "Whole country against XI guys," was Rahul's sarcasm. Kohli went overboard hinting that the SA bowlers were ball tampering. "Focus on your (Supersport) team as well when they shine the ball, eh," was his tangential take. It seemed like they didn't know that the team managing the tech wasn't the host broadcaster. To be fair, the umpire at the non-striker's end, Marais Erasmus, called the ball-tracking 'impossible'.

That phase allowed the batters to score quickly. Elgar and Petersen, who has again looked very impressive, scored 35 off the next six overs to make a tricky target of 211 relatively small.

The third day, though, belonged to Pant who now has tons in South Africa, England, Australia and India (Adam Gilchrist is the only other wicket-keeper to have centuries in these countries). When he walked in, Kagiso Rabada and Marco Jansen were breathing flammable products. At 58/4 (and a lead of just 71), it could have gone horribly pear-shaped. What clicked for him this time is the way he bided his time initially. He shouldered arms to deliveries that were being angled across him. He refused to take the bait at wide deliveries. Nine of his first 12 balls were dots as he took his time and got clued into the surface. If his innings so far this series was being played at 2x speed, the first 30 minutes or so of his stay here was being played at normal speed.

And once he got set, he went after the bowlers, especially, and this won't be a surprise, Keshav Maharaj, with three sixes. Another six, with a horizontal bat that hit the boundary cushion at long on, took the breath away. At the end, he also farmed the strike with the tail to stretch the target beyond 210.

Will it be enough to conquer the final frontier? Friday's first session will tell.

Rishabh Pant is only the second male wicket-keeper to score Test hundreds in England, South Africa, India and Australia.

While rest of the batters failed, Rishabh Pant dug India out of a precarious position to score a thrilling hundred. That enabled the visitors to post a 200-plus target | AFP

Jansen's form for SA points to India's dearth of left-arm seamers

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

RIGHT from Alan Davidson to Shaheen Afridi, left-arm fast bowlers have enthralled fans the world over and have troubled the best of batsmen.

Speaking of their impact, one remembers Brian Lara during an exclusive chat with this daily who had said that he found Wasim Akram the most difficult bowler to face at the peak of his prowess. Keeping the left-arm fast bowling tradition alive is South Africa's latest pace machine Marco Jansen.

All of 21 years, Jansen who got an opportunity to play against India, thanks to his performance for South Africa A against India A and has been a revelation with his penetrative bowling. Tall, athletic with a fast bowler's attitude, Jansen has taken 19 wickets so far (including in the ongoing Test) in the series and has impressed one and all with his bowling.

"Marco Jansen gave a good account of himself. He has looked impressive so far. Left-arm fast bowlers have always an advantage as the angle, arc, pace, bounce and carry that they extract is difficult to pick for many a batsman. Jansen has been hitting the deck in the right areas so far and has also been putting his height to effective use," observed former India medium pacer and CSK bowling coach L Balaji.

Playing a left-arm speedster calls for sound technique and most importantly, adjustments in stance and feet movement.

The likes of Sunil Gavaskar, Rahul Dravid and Sachin Tendulkar put their experience to effective use, made subtle adjustments to their technique and enjoyed success against the likes of Wasim Akram.

Likewise, Virat Kohli too made some adjustments in his technique and was successful at Cape Town in the first essay and made 79.

But in the second innings, after a laboured 29 off 143 balls, perished once again fishing outside the off stump. "To play a left-arm seamer you need to make some adjustments to your game so as to take on the angle and lengths. Kohli in the first innings played Jansen well and thus made a good score. He (Kohli) played with a slightly more open stance and thus was successful," pointed out the former Tamil Nadu captain.

But the majority of the Indian batters have not been that successful against Jansen. One of the reasons why they failed to play to their potential is that they have no practice against left-arm seamers. With T Natarajan yet to recover from injury, there is no one to bowl to the top-order in the nets.

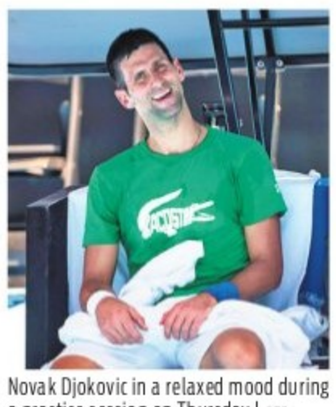
No call on deportation yet, Djokovic in draw



Novak Djokovic in a relaxed mood during a practice session on Thursday | AFP

AFP @ Melbourne

NOVAK Djokovic drew a first-round clash against a fellow Serb in the Australian Open on Thursday, taking a step closer to his dream of a record 21st Grand Slam despite a looming decision on his deportation.

The unvaccinated 20-time Major champion, top seed and defending champion is looking to clinch a 10th title at Melbourne Park. The 34-year-old tennis superstar was drawn to play Miomir Kecmanovic in the first round. But the openly vaccine-sceptic Djokovic's championship hopes were in peril as Australia's Immigration Minister Alex Hawke pondered whether to revoke his visa for a second time and throw him out of the country. Hawke is considering using his powers to annul the visa, his spokesman has said, although "lengthy further submissions" from Djokovic's legal team have delayed a decision. In a lengthy press conference, Prime Minister Scott Morrison said no decision had yet been taken. The draw had actually been delayed on the assumption that there would be a definite answer about his fate at the Open.

What the rule book says

If Djokovic was to be thrown out of Australia now, the No 5 seed, Andrey Rublev in this instance, will take his place in the draw. If the Serb is ejected from the country after the first day's order of play is out (usually is released on Sunday), then a lucky loser will occupy his spot.

Crowds capped at 50 per cent

Meanwhile, as Covid-related hospitalisations rise in Melbourne, the Victorian state government said Thursday it would cap capacity at the Australian Open at 50 percent. Spectators must be vaccinated or have a medical exemption.

Face masks will also be mandatory at the opening Grand Slam of the year except when eating or drinking, and those watching must socially distance while indoors. The tournament starts Monday.

India Open hit by seven Covid cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

AS many as seven players, including men's singles No 1 seed Kidambi Srikanth, tested positive for Covid-19 and were forced to withdraw from the ongoing Yonex-Sunrise India Open Super 500 tournament in New Delhi.

All the players had reportedly undergone a mandatory RT-PCR test on Tuesday. Apart from Srikanth, the other players to suffer the unfornunate fate are Ashwini Ponnappa, Ritika Thaker, Simran Aman Singhi, Treesa Jolly, Mithun Manjunath and Khushi Gupta.

"Badminton World Federation (BWF) can confirm that seven players have been withdrawn from the Yonex-Sunrise India Open 2022 after testing positive for Covid-19," the BAI-BWF stated in a joint release early on Thursday.

It's not just the in-form Srikanth, who was forced to skip his second-round match on Thursday, that suffered. All the close contacts of the seven players were also withdrawn from the event. In total, there were 11 walkovers across all categories on Thursday.

Youngster Malvika Bansod beat veteran Saina Nehwal to march into quarters | BAI

On the court, Saina Nehwal, who's making a return after injury, was handed a reality check on the day. Yet to attain 100 per cent match fitness, the former World No 1 crashed out after losing (21-17, 21-9) against Malvika Bansod.

For Malvika, who's trying to find her feet in the senior international circuit, the result was a big shot in the arm. "I was playing her for the first time and was not thinking of winning or losing. My game plan was to just keep the shuttle in play and keep moving her," Malvika said after the match against Saina, someone who she considers an idol.

Malvika's next challenge is Aakarshi Kashyap. The duo had recently locked horns during the BAI Series meet final in Hyderbad with the former bagging the contest to clinch the top prize. Aakarshi had captured the BAI Series meet title in Chennai.

Also advancing to the quarterfinals were PV Sindhu and Ashmita Chaliha. In the men's singles, Lakshya Sen also booked a spot in the quarterfinals with a victory (21-12, 21-15) against Felix Burestedt of Sweden. Reigning world champ Loh Kean Yew also posted a win to advance.

Chennaiyin & Hyderabad play out draw

AGENCIES @ Fatorda

CHENNAIYIN FC's aspirations of breaking into the top-four went up in smoke as they were held to a 1-1 draw by Hyderabad FC in a tense Indian Super League game that ended in a 1-1 stalemate at the PJN Stadium in Fatorda on Thursday.

Chennaiyin went ahead through Mohd Sajid Dhot in the 13th minute but could not hold on to their lead till halftime as Javier Siverio (45th) continued his scoring spree with a goal on the cusp of halftime. There were no goals in the second period as Debjit Majumder made a string of saves in Chennaiyin goal and the home side put pressure in six minutes of added time for the winner but in the end, it ended all square. Hyderabad missed talisman Bartholomew Ogbeche as the league's top-scorer served his suspension after picking up four yellow cards.

The result means Hyderabad moved third with 17 points from 11 games while Chennaiyin remained sixth having 15 points from 11 matches. Chennaiyin nosed ahead early through an unlikely source when young defender Mohd Sajid Dhot headed in Anirudh Thapa's inch-perfect free-kick.

ICC U-19 WORLD CUP

India Colts aim to break shackles of past glories

GOMESH S @ Chennai

PERFORMING consistently in any global event is no mean task. It's even more difficult in an U-19 tournament, given the new pool of the players that come through every two years. As India — the most successful team at this level with four World Cups — prepare for their campaign that begins on January 15 against South Africa at Providence Stadium, Guyana, the seven-time finalists are trying not to be burdened by the past record.

"There's a huge legacy because of the past tournaments and how the Indian team have done in them," said head coach Hrishikesh Kanitkar at a press conference on Thursday, before adding, "but you have to understand every U-19 WC has a set of new guys. You don't have anyone who has played before. In a way, you are starting fresh."

Aiming to take it one day at a time, he added that the players have to focus on what's important at the moment and try not to think about trophies or future aspirations. Echoing similar thoughts, skipper Yash Dhull said: "pressure will be there in every game. We will try and enjoy such situations and hopefully, it will help us. We have to approach one game after another in these tournaments."

As with the other sports, their schedule also took a hit due to the pandemic. Going into the tournament, the players have featured in a tri-series involving the U-19 sides of India A, India B and Bangladesh. It was followed by the ACC U-19 Asia Cup, which they won. Despite the limited match-time, Kanitkar said that they are confident of trying to make the best of the time they have had as it's the reality they have to deal with.

Yash Dhull will captain the team

On the role of skipper Dhull, he said that the top-order bat from Delhi is capable of taking tough calls on the field, adding, "he's pretty instinctive and I think his instincts are fine tuned well that he's able to do justice to his job."

Rajvardhan Hangargekar is one of the names in focus as the fast bowling all-rounder from Maharashtra has already made a significant impact both with bat and ball at the Asia Cup. Calling him an exciting prospect, Kanitkar said that the 19-year-old could get the ball through quickly and also has a good bouncer and yorker. "He's not a bad batter. You will find out during the tournament. He's got the right attitude and is keen to do well in the tournament."

UK cuts isolation period to boost its economy

Decision may also help ease pressure on the NHS, which is facing staff crunch due to Covid surge; France, Finland too roll back curbs

COVID

LONDON : The UK government on Thursday announced that the minimum period of self-isolation for someone who tests positive for Covid-19 will be reduced from the current seven days to five, effective from Monday.

UK Health Secretary Sajid Javid made a statement in the House of Commons to confirm the change for England, with devolved nations of the United Kingdom usually following similar patterns.

From Monday, fully vaccinated people will be able to leave isolation on day six after negative lateral flow tests on that day and a day before days five and six.

"UKHSA [UK Health Security Agency] data shows that around two-thirds of positive cases are no longer infectious by the end of day five and we want to use the testing capacity that we've built up to help these people leave isolation safely," Javid told Parliament.

"After reviewing all of the evidence, we've made the decision to reduce the minimum self-isolation period to five full days in England. From Monday, people can test twice before they go, leaving isolation at the start of day six. These two tests are critical to these balanced and proportionate plans," he said.

Under current rules, fully vaccinated individuals who test positive are able to end their isolation period after seven days if they receive a negative lateral flow test on days six and seven with the tests taken 24 hours apart.

Any curbs on our freedoms must be an absolute last resort and that we shouldn't keep them in place for a day longer than absolutely necessary

Sajid Javid, UK Health Secretary

There had been calls for the government to reduce the isolation period to reduce staffing pressures across workplaces, including on the National Health Service (NHS) frontlines.

England's five-day isolation comes in line with the US, which had cut its self-isolation period to five days last month.

During his Covid-19 update for Parliament, Javid welcomed 'encouraging' data from the country's ongoing Omicron wave of not seeing an increase in Covid-19 intensive care patients, with some early signs that the rate of hospitalisation is starting to slow.

Finland's health authorities cut the recommended quarantine period for Covid-19 patients by up to half on Thursday, as the prime minister faced criticism for stepping back from virus policy as infections hit record levels.

The current 10-day quarantine period will in most cases be cut to five days, with people suffering symptoms advised to stay at home without seeking a laboratory test, public health body THL said.

The change was in response to testing services becoming overwhelmed in many places, with home-testing kits also widely selling out due to the surging infections.

"The dynamics of infection are faster with the Omicron variant," THL senior physician Otto Helve told a press conference.

Meanwhile, France said it will ease coronavirus curbs introduced last month on travellers from Britain, enabling vaccinated tourists to visit from Friday providing they have a negative test. The government has decided to end a blanket ban on non-essential travel, announced on December 16 when "the epidemic was spreading at a spectacular rate in the UK," the PM's office said Thursday.

SMART GUNS ARE COMING TO U.S. MARKET

Smart guns are finally coming to the US. Reuters reported this week that two prototypes are currently being tested by US authorities and are likely to hit the market soon. Can they curb mass shooting? A look

MAY HELP CURB MASS SHOOTINGS

1 Supporters of smart guns say the tech could go a long way to discourage youth suicides and accidental gun discharges. Hundreds of teens commit suicide each year in the US, using guns owned by their parents

2 More importantly, some of recent mass shootings were carried out by youngsters using firearms owned by their parents

3 Smart guns require authentication before the trigger can be pulled, which means children will not be able to fire their parents's guns without their permission

4 Also, data shows a significant number of criminals use guns owned by someone else to carry out criminal activities

5 Since the gun requires authentication for each shot, chances of accidental discharges are low. As per one account there are, on an average, more than 400 accidental firearm deaths in the United States each year

CHIP AND SCANNER

Smart guns use fingerprints or radio frequency identification technology (RFIT) to ensure that only a verified user pulls the trigger. In the case of RFIT, a chip inside the gun will send or receive signals from another chip worn by the user, typically in a bracelet or a ring. They may also feature a keypad so that in case the user has his or her fingers wet, they can type in a password to activate the weapon

Children being evacuated during the Sandy Hook shooting. The shooter, Adam Lanza, used his mother's gun

CAN IT REDUCE GUN DEATHS?

Critics say, smart guns can only make limited progress in curbing gun deaths in the United States. Afterall, in a majority of gun death cases, the culprit used his or her own weapon

WHO ARE MAKING SMART GUNS

- Modern smart guns were invented in the late 1990s. However they are yet to hit the market, partly due to pressure from the gun lobby, which feels smart guns could pave the way for more measures to restrict gun rights
- LodeStar Works, based in Pennsylvania, unveiled its 9mm smart guns last week. Another company based in the US state of Kansas, SmartGunz LLC said its guns are currently being tested by law enforcement
- Several other companies include Armtraks are doing research and development

GUN LOBBY ANXIOUS

The National Rifles Association and the National Shooting Sports Foundation both have opposed smart guns. They fear if smart guns become viable, anti-gun legislators will push for restrictions on the use of other types of guns

NOT A NEW CONCEPT

The earliest smart guns were revolvers that used a technology called Magna Trigger, whereby a magnet is placed inside the handle of a revolver. The magnet locks the trigger, which can then be unlocked with an opposing magnet worn by the user that resembles a ring or a bracelet. Years later, scientists developed iP1, which is a smart gun that uses RFIT to unlock it. Most modern smartguns use RFIT technology

Are hybrid cars a con?

CLIMATE

A Swiss region has pulled subsidies for hybrid cars, citing a report which found they offered negligible emissions and fuel consumption advantages when tested on Alpine Switzerland's roads. The mountainous southern Wallis canton commissioned a study by Impact Living, a project management firm which helps clients transition to more environmentally-friendly solutions. Their report on fuel consumption by plug-in hybrid electric vehicles (PHEVs) in Wallis found little in the way of benefits — with one of the authors calling their claimed environmental advantages a "con". "These vehicles do not permit any environmental improvement," energy engineer Marc Muller said. Studies suggested the real-world gains in carbon dioxide emission reductions are not as high as in manufacturers' tests.

Aus town has its hottest day

CLIMATE

A town in Western Australia on Thursday equalled the country's hottest day on record, reporting a temperature of 50.7C (123.26F), the Bureau of Meteorology said. The mercury rose to the sweltering milestone on Thursday afternoon in the remote coastal town of Onslow, the agency said. "NEW Western Australian maximum temperature record and equal National temperature record!" the state's Bureau of Meteorology Twitter feed posted. "Onslow reached an unprecedented - 50.7C which is a WA record and equals Australia's hottest day set 62 years ago in Oodnadatta SA." The tweet said the data was not yet official as it has not been "quality controlled". A temperature of 50.7C was recorded at Southern Australia's Oodnadatta Airport on January 2, 1960, according to the Bureau's website.

Thawing permafrost a triple-threat

CLIMATE

Thawing Arctic permafrost laden with billions of tonnes of greenhouse gases not only threatens the region's critical infrastructure but life across the planet, according a comprehensive scientific review. Nearly 70 percent of the roads, pipelines, cities and industry -- mostly in Russia -- built on the region's softening ground are highly vulnerable to acute damage by mid-century, according to one of half-a-dozen studies on permafrost published this week by Nature. Another study warns that methane and CO2 escaping from long-frozen soil could accelerate warming and overwhelm global efforts to cap the rise in Earth's temperature at livable levels. Exposure of highly combustible organic matter no longer locked away by ice is also fuelling unprecedented wildfires, making permafrost a triple threat, the studies report.Temperatures in the Arctic region have risen two to three times more quickly over the last half-century than for the world as a whole.

Oldest known human fossil may be older than thought: Study

ARCHAEOLOGY

PARIS: One of the oldest known Homo sapiens fossils may be more than 35,000 years older than previously thought, according to a study on Wednesday that used volcanic ash to date the find.

Kibish Omo I, first unearthed in Ethiopia in 1967, contained only bone and skull fragments which were difficult to date directly and experts long remained divided over their age.

Geologists in 2005 analysed the layer of rock just underneath the find and determined Omo I was at least 1,95,000 years old.

That made the Homo sapiens fossil at least that old – and the oldest ever discovered at the time.

"But there was still a lot of uncertainty," Celine Vidal, the main author of the study published in leading scientific journal Nature, told AFP.

Vidal, a volcano expert at the University of Cambridge, said getting a more precise date meant analysing the thick layer of ash deposited above the fossils.

"At the time that was nearly impossible since the ash was so fine, almost like flour," she said.

But thanks to more refined methods available today Vidal's team was able to link that layer of ash to a major eruption of a volcano named Shala.

According to the study, the ash revealed the layer where Omo I was found to be 2,33,000 years old, with a 22,000-year margin of error. "This is a major jump in time," said study co-author and paleoanthropologist Aurelien Mounier.

He added that the new minimum age for Omo I is more consistent with the most recent theories of human evolution.

It also brings it closer to the age given to what are today the oldest Homo sapiens remains, discovered in Morocco in 2017 and dated to 300,000 years ago.

The skulls and teeth unearthed in Jebel Irhoud torpedoed the long-held theory that we emerged from an East African "cradle of humankind".

But for Mounier, the physical characteristics of the Moroccan fossils are a less convincing ancestor of today's humans than Omo I.

The Jebel Irhoud fossils are described as having a modern face but a brain case that, though large, has a more archaic-looking shape.

CENTURY-OLD TRADITION

VIETNAM'S 'INCENSE VILLAGE' DAZZLES IN PINK AHEAD OF LUNAR NEW YEAR

CULTURE

HANOI: January is usually the busiest time of year for workers in Quang Phu Cau village on the outskirts of Hanoi, where the tradition of making incense goes back more than a century.

As Vietnam's Tet new-year holiday approaches — this year it begins on February 1 — sales tick up with throngs of people crowding into temples to light incense during worship, or burn the sticks on the ancestral altar at home.

But while villagers are busy dyeing, drying and whittling bamboo bark to make the sticks, they complain that business is slow. "I think our sales must have dropped by 30 per cent compared with the same period last year," says Nguyen Thi Luyen, 59. Communist Vietnam reported economic growth for 2021 of just 2.58 per cent — its lowest in three decades — as the country endured draconian restrictions to fight the pandemic.

Production, supply chains and businesses were seriously hit as almost the entire country went into lockdown for at least three months.

Things have started to improve, but the consequences remain.

"Normally, there would be trucks carrying our products from central provinces and border provinces. This year, due to pandemic preventive policy, trucks cannot carry goods there," Luyen told AFP.

Quang Phu Cau is among several places dotted across Vietnam making the sticks, the scent of each batch carefully tailored to suit the tastes of the regions where they will be sold.

Most households in the village are involved in the ancient trade, from cutting bamboo planks and dipping thin strips into pink dye to coating the dried sticks in an aromatic paste.

"We really hope things will come back to normal soon," Luyen said.
